Kyle Flood is in his fourth season as the head football coach at Rutgers and 11th overall with the Scarlet Knights. In the 145-year history of Rutgers football, Flood holds the distinction of being the only coach to lead the program to three bowl appearances in his first three seasons at the helm.

Flood led the Scarlet Knights through one of their most defining moments in program history - entrance into the prestigious Big Ten Conference. He currently owns a 23-16 record, the most wins of any RU head coach after three seasons.

Flood guided Rutgers to eight wins in 2014 - the program's first season as a member of the Big Ten Conference. Rutgers won all five of its KYLE FLOOD non-conference games and earned Big Ten victories over Michigan, Indiana and Maryland. Following the season, four players (wide receiver Leonte Carroo, defensive lineman Darius Hamilton, defensive lineman Kemoko Turay, offensive lineman Kaleb Johnson) were named all-conference, with Carroo earning First Team All-Big Ten in the media vote. Defensive end Kemoko Turay also earned FWAA Freshman All-America honors.

Flood led Rutgers to a convincing 40-21 win in the Quick Lane Bowl against North Carolina in Detroit, the program's ninth bowl appearance over the last 10 seasons. The Scarlet Knights earned their first-ever Lambert-Meadowlands Trophy, emblematic of the top team in the East in the Bowl Subdivision.

Following the 2013 season, Flood had the second-highest total of victories for any coach after two seasons in school history. Four players garnered all-conference honors under Flood's watch - tight end Tyler Kroft (first team), running back Paul James (first team), center Betim Bujari (second team) and Janarion Grant (second team)

In addition, Kroft earned All-America status from SI.com, becoming the first Rutgers tight end to be named an All-American since Marco Battaglia in 1995. Redshirt freshman middle linebacker Steve Longa earned several Freshmen All-America honors as he ended the season as the first middle linebacker at Rutgers to total over 100 tackles in a season since Gary Brackett in 2002.

Flood was named the 29th head coach at the Birthplace of College Football on January 31, 2012. His first year as head coach of the Rutgers football program was as memorable as any first-year coach in Rutgers football history. Flood guided Rutgers to its first BIG EAST Championship, earned BIG EAST Coach of the Year honors and won more games (nine) than any rookie head coach in RU history.

Eight players garnered All-BIG EAST honors as the Scarlet Knights tied a school-record with a 5-2 league record. Khaseem Greene became the second player in league history to be named BIG EAST Defensive Player of the Year for two consecutive seasons.

Greene also became the fourth player in school history to be named to the Walter Camp Football Foundation All-America team, joining former RU standouts Ray Rice, Anthony Davis and Battaglia on the prestigious list. Greene and cornerback Logan Ryan both earned various All-America accolades after the 2012 rammaign.

Following his third year as head coach, Flood has witnessed a total of 26 former Scarlet Knights who were selected in the NFL Draft or signed free agent contracts after the 2015 NFL Draft. Additionally, Rutgers saw a school-record seven players taken in the 2013 draft.

While being part of a program producing victories at a rate unprecedented in Rutgers' history, Flood has understood the value of academics for the Scarlet Knights. The Rutgers football program was the lone state university to be ranked in the top 10 percent nationally in Academic Progress Rate (APR) for the eighth consecutive academic year in June.

The 2014 season also saw 27 Scarlet Knights named to the Big Ten All-Academic Team, the fourth-most in the conference. Included in this group was David Milewski, who was named a First Team Academic All-American and earned a prestigious NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship. Milewski along with Kroft, Michael Burton and Lorenzo Waters were selected to the National Football Foundation (NFF) Hampshire Honor Society for their work in the classroom.

Off the field, Flood has made an equally significant impact in the community. He has served the past four years as the honorary coach of the New Jersey Special Dlympics, serves on the honorary board of directors for Lauren's First and Goal Foundation and has taken an active role with volunteering with Embrace Kids Foundation.

Flood was one of 17 people honored by the White House among Hurricane Sandy "Champions of Change," earning the nod for Rutgers' relief efforts after the deadly fall storm hit the Northeast region. The Rutgers football program under Flood's leadership has helped raise over $175,000 for the New Jersey Hurricane Sandy Relief Fund.

The Champions of Change program

gave the White House a chance to honor groups of people doing great work in their communities.

One constant on any coaching staff with Flood is how successful those teams have fared. In 16 of Flood's 17 seasons as an assistant coach, his teams finished with winning records, including earning a National Championship at Delaware.

A highly respected figure in the coaching profession, Flood has served as the assistant head coach of the program since 2008 and has been a key part in Rutgers' six bowl appearances over his seven-year tenure as an assistant in Piscataway

In addition to his four years as the assistant head coach, Flood has been in charge of the offensive line since coming to RU in 2005. During his time "On the Banks", the Rutgers offensive line consistently produced top-level talent, including several players who have gone on to the NFL. All-American Anthony Davis became the highest player ever drafted in Rutgers history as the 11th overall pick of the 2010 NFL Draft, eventually earning a trip to the Super Bowl with the San Francisco 49ers in 2013.

In 2011, true freshman right tackle Kaleb Johnson became a Freshman All-America selection, while offensive guard Art Forst collected All-BIG EAST First Team honors along with offensive guard Desmond Wynn who was named to the All-BIG EAST Second Team.

Flood has helped engineer some of the most potent offenses in Rutgers history – evident in a record-breaking 2007 season. The Scarlet Knights' offensive line ranked second in the nation with just 10 sacks allowed in addition to an RU offense that became the first in NCAA history to have a 3,000-yard passer, 2,000-yard rusher and two 1,000-yard receivers in the same season.

The Rutgers offense was ranked 18th nationally in total offense in 2007. The offensive line featured two of the top tackles in the nation in Pedro Sosa and Jeremy Zuttah. Both players earned All-BIG EAST honors and were also invited to the NFL Scouting Combine in Indianapolis, with Zuttah becoming a third round selection by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Flood handled run game duties in 2007 and his offensive line helped pave the way for All-American running back Ray Rice, who rushed for a school and then-BIG EAST record 2,012 yards that season. Rice was selected in the second round of the 2008 NFL Draft by the Baltimore Ravens and went on to consecutive Pro Bowl appearances in 2010 and 2011, and a Super Bowl title in 2012.

In 2006, Flood coached an offensive line that helped Rutgers to one of its most productive seasons, as the group relinquished the fewest sacks in the nation with just eight. His unit was regarded as one of the best in the country and featured Cameron Stephenson and Darnell Stapleton, both who played in the NFL. Flood's corps of hard-nosed blockers helped guide

Rice to an All-America season, as he finished second in the nation with 1,794 yards.

Flood came to Rutgers after three seasons at the University of Delaware, where he helped the Blue Hens to a 30-11 record, including a 15-1 mark in 2003 ae route to the NCAA FCS National Championship and a share of the Atlantic 10 title in 2004. He also served as assistant head coach and recruiting coordinator during his stint.

Prior to his three seasons at Delaware, Flood was offensive line coach at Hofstra from 1997-2001. While at Hofstra, he helped the Pride earn berths in the NCAA FCS playoffs in 1997 and 1999-2001. The Pride were among the top offensive teams in the nation during his tenure, ranking second in total offense, fourth in passing and fifth in scoring in 2001.

Flood, a 1993 graduate of Iona College, was a four-year letterwinner for the Gaels. A high school teammate of former Rutgers All-American tight end Marco Battaglia at St. Francis Prep High School in Queens, N.Y., Flood earned First Team All-Liberty Conference honors in 1991 and served as team captain of the Gaels in 1992. Flood was a 2013 inductee into the Iona College Goal Club Hall of Fame.

Flood's first college coaching position came in 1995-96 as offensive line coach at Long Island University-C.W. Post. While coaching at C.W. Post, he helped the team to the ECAC Division II Eastern title in 1996. Flood began his coaching career at St. Francis Prep in 1993, as both offensive and defensive line coach in 1993-94.

Flood and his wife, Amy, are the proud parents of three children, Kyle, Isabella and Joseph.

BEN McDANIELS

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Ben McDaniels is in his first season as offensive coordinator and second season overall on the Rutgers coaching staff. McDaniels served as wide receivers coach last season.

In 2014, McDaniels directed a receiving corps that enabled RU to rank sixth nationally in passing yards per completion and saw Leonte Carroo catch a school-record tying 10 touchdowns for 1,086 yards. Carroo ranked 19th nationally in receiving touchdowns and 23rd in receiving yards.

Prior to arriving at Rutgers, Mc-Daniels spent two seasons as an offensive assistant for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. In 2013, he assisted with the development of rookie quarterback Mike Glennon, who finished with the top passer rating (82.0) among rookies and was named to the Pro Football Writers of America All-Rookie team. Glennon set rookie franchise marks for passing yards and touchdowns.

In 2012, McDaniels assisted in the coaching of the Buccaneers offense, which set team records in passing yards, total yards and points scored. McDaniels was part of an offensive staff that helped wide receiver Vincent Jackson and running back Doug Martin earn spots on the 2013 NFC Pro Rowl roster.

McDaniels served previously on the coaching staff of the Denver Broncos, working as a coaching assistant in 2009 and quarterbacks coach in 2010. While with the Broncos in 2010, McDaniels helped direct the seventh-ranked passing offense in the National Football League as quarterbacks Kyle Orton and Tim Tebow combined for 4,307 passing yards and 25 touchdowns to just 12 interceptions, while Tebow also added 227 yards rushing and six rushing scores.

In 2009, McDaniels was part of a Denver offensive coaching staff that helped Orton to a career year, setting a personal best with 3,802 passing yards, which marked the second-highest total in the NFL among players in their first year with a team. Orton also tied for fifth in the league with a passer rating of at least 90.0 in 10 games. In addition, the Broncos offense tied for seventh in the NFL with only 23 give-aways, marking the fourth-lowest total in team history.

Before joining the Broncos, McDaniels spent three years coaching high school football in Ohio. He instructed quarterbacks at Massillon's Jackson High School in 2008 after a two-year stint coaching the quarterbacks at Canton McKinley Senior High School from 2006-07. He began his coaching career in 2003 as a wide receivers coach at Warren Harding (Ohio) High School.

McDaniels worked for the University of Minnesota as a graduate assistant under head coach Glen Mason from 2004-05. The Golden Gophers posted a 7-5 record and earned a berth in the Music City Bowl during each of those two seasons, as McDaniels worked with the wide receivers in 2004 and the defensive backs in 2005.

While at Minnesota in 2005, Mc-Daniels was part of the team that recaptured the "Little Brown Jug" on a last-second road victory over the University of Michigan, marking the Golden Gophers' first victory against Michigan since 1986 in one of college football's oldest rivalries.

McDaniels was a quarterback at Kent State University under head coach Dean Pees from 1999-2001 after playing for Canton McKinley, which he led to a 37-3 record and two state championships during his three years as a starter. He set Canton McKinley career and single-season records for passing yards and touchdowns while also helping it earn a No. 1 national ranking from USA Today in 1997.

McDaniels and his wife, Kyle, are the proud parents of their daughter, Kinley.

PLAYING CAREER

Four-year starter and three-time allconference performer at Allegheny College, serving as team captain in 2000.

JOE ROSSI

Joe Rossi is in his second season as defensive coordinator at Rutgers after spending the 2012 and 2013 seasons as special teams coordinator. Rossi directed one of the nation's top special teams units during his first two seasons "On the Banks."

Rossi coached a defense in 2014 that produced a pair of All-Big Ten honorees in Darius Hamilton and Kemoko Turay, Hamilton led the RU defense with 11.5 tackles-for-loss, including a career-best six sacks. Turay emerged as a dominant pass rusher in his redshirt freshman season for the Scarlet Knights as he picked up a team-high 7.5 sacks, ranking eighth among Big Ten players.

Rossi served as interim defensive coordinator in the 2013 New Era Pinstripe Bowl against No. 25 Notre Dame. He was officially promoted to his current role on Jan. 31, 2014.

In 2013, Rutgers scored four special teams touchdowns, including two kickoff returns and a punt return touchdown. True freshman Janarion Grant earned All-AAC Second Team honors as a return specialist.

The Scarlet Knights put together a strong special teams unit in 2012, ranking first in the nation with eight blocked kicks, ninth in kickoff return yardage defense (18.09) and 34th in kickoff return average (23.21). He also assisted with the fourth-ranked scoring defense (14.2 points per game) in the nation.

Under Rossi's tutelage, kick returner Jeremy Deering ranked third in the BIG EAST and among the national leaders in kickoff returns in 2012.

Rossi came to Rutgers after working alongside former RU defensive coordinator Robb Smith at Maine (2007-08). Rossi, who coached at Maine from 2007-11, was promoted to defensive coordinator following Smith's departure to Rutgers after the 2008 season.

Maine annually had one of the top defensive units in the Football Championship Subdivision under Rossi's watch. In 2011, the Black Bears ranked 26th nationally in sacks, 31st in pass defense and 25th in pass efficiency defense.

In 2010, Rossi developed the Maine linebackers and secondary into two of the best positional units in the Colonial Athletic Association. Linebacker Donte Dennis collected All-CAA honors for the secondstraight year and ranked sixth in the conference with 108 tackles.

In his first season as defensive coordinator in 2009, Rossi's unit totaled 19 interceptions (second in the CAA), led by All-CAA defensive back Steven Baker.

Prior to his promotion as defensive coordinator, Rossi directed Maine's special teams in 2007 and 2008. During those two seasons, the Black Bears totaled 16 kickoff returns of 30 yards or more. In 2007, punter Kash Kiefer set a school record with an 82-yard punt at Villanova.

Before arriving at Maine, Rossi coached six seasons at Division III Thiel College in Greenville, Pa, including the final four years as defensive coordinator. In 2006, Thiel led the President's Athletic Conference in scoring defense, total defense, rush defense and pass defense.

In 2005, he was instrumental in leading Thiel to the PAC championship, as the squad made an appearance in the NCAA Division III playoffs.

A 2001 graduate of Allegheny, Rossi lives with his wife, Lynsey.

PHIL GALIANO

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR/TIGHT ENDS

Phil Galiano is in the second season of his third stint 'On the Banks'. He returns to the sideline to coach special teams and tight ends, following a season serving as the director of recruiting operations.

In 2014, Galiano worked as the director of recruiting operations, helping the Scarlet Knights build depth with the signing of players from every position group on offense and defense.

After 12 years at the collegiate level, Galiano jumped to the NFL in 2012 and helped the Tampa Bay Buccaneers lead the league in blocked punts with three, including linebacker Dekoda Watson who tied for the league lead with two. Galiano also worked with kicker Connor Barth, who tied for the league lead in made field goals of 40 or more yards and punter Michael Koenen, who led the NFL in touchbacks and touchback percentage on kickoffs.

Galiano previously coached the Scarlet Knights defensive line in 2011 and tight ends in 2010 before heading to the NFL. He also tutored the defensive ends and linebackers in his first term with the Scarlet Knights from 2003-06.

Prior to returning to Piscataway for the second time, Galiano served as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Florida International for three seasons from 2007-09. While at FIU. Galiano helped the Panthers achieve marked improvements on the defensive side of the ball. Between the 2007 and 2008 seasons, FIU jumped up 74 spots in turnover margin, 45 spots in pass efficiency defense, 36 spots in scoring defense, 34 spots in total defense and 25 spots in rush defense. The team also ranked 25th nationally in tackles for loss average, moving up 37 spots.

Galiano was a member of the Rutgers staff that saw the Scarlet Knights earn their second bowl berth in school history and the firstever victory with a 37-10 win over Kansas State in the Texas Bowl. Galiano's career at RU began as a defensive assistant in 2003 before being elevated to linebackers coach in 2004. He later spent the 2005 and 2006 seasons coaching the defensive ends.

In 2006, Galiano's defensive ends were major contributors on a defensive unit that ranked fourth nationally. Rutgers defense was fifth in the NCAA in both sacks and tackles for loss per game and produced first-team All-America and All-Big East defensive lineman Eric Foster, as well as second-team All-Big East defensive linemen Jamaal Westerman. Both continued their playing careers in the NFL.

Galiano entered the coaching ranks at Dickinson College, where he worked with the outside linebackers during the 2000 season. He spent 2001 as outside linebackers coach at the University of New Haven before becoming an offensive assistant at Villanova in 2002, working primarily with the tight ends.

A three-year starter at safety for Shippensburg University, Galiano served as a tri-captain during his senior campaign. He helped lead the Raiders to three consecutive winning seasons from 1997-99, when they posted a 21-11 mark over that span.

Galiano originally hails from Norristown, Pa. He and his wife, Kelly, have two sons, Thomas Jeffrey and Andrew James, and a daughter, Taylor Lee.

NORRIES WILSON

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH/RUNNING BACKS

Norries Wilson is in his fourth season as the running backs coach for Rutgers and third as the assistant head coach.

Rutgers saw two true freshmen running backs top 400 yards on the season under the guidance of Wilson in 2014. In the Scarlet Knights' Quick Lane Bowl win, Josh Hicks and Robert Martin each reached 100 yards rushing in the game - the first time since 2006 that RU had two players rush for over 100 yards. Hicks rushed for 202 yards on 19 carries en route to being named Quick Lane Bowl MVP.

The Scarlet Knights finished the 2014 season with 2,114 yards rushing, the most since accumulating 2,574 in 2007.

Wilson helped mentor running back Paul James to First Team All-American Athletic Conference status in 2013, as he totaled 881 yards and nine touchdowns on the ground in nine games. James led the nation in rushing early in the season and went on to lead the conference with 97.9 yards per game.

In his first season "On the Banks," Wilson played a crucial role in the development of Rutgers' young running backs. He helped sophomore Jawan Jamison to one of the most successful seasons in school history. Jamison became just the seventh player in program history to record 1,000 yards in a season and the third since 1976 en route to Second Team All-Big East honors.

Following his 1,000-yard season, Jamison was a seventh-round NFL Draft pick of the Washington Redskins. Jamison became the first Rutgers running back since Ray Rice to post six-straight 100-yard rushing games, and was just the third player in the program's history to do so.

One of the top assistant coaches in the nation while at the University of Connecticut, Wilson became Columbia's 18th head coach in December 2005. Wilson's student-athletes earned 33 All-Tvy League honors during his tenure, including two Rookies of the Year and 12 first team selections.

Following the 2010 season, Columbia had a total of eight student-athletes named All-Tvy League in football, the second most in school history. In 2009, Wilson led Columbia bia to a fourth-place finish in the Ivy League, the Lions' best league finish in six years. Columbia also posted its most wins in six years as eight players earned All-Ivy honors.

Wilson, who served as offensive coordinator at UConn for four seasons, was one of five finalists for the Frank Broyles Award as the nation's top assistant coach in 2004, a season in which the Huskies led the Big East in both total offense and scoring offense. In 2003, he guided UConn's eighth-ranked offense nationally (477.5 ypg). Wilson was promoted to the Huskies' offensive coordinator in 2002, after joining the UConn staff in 1999 as offensive line coach. He continued to work specifically with the Huskies' centers and quards.

Before UConn, Wilson spent four seasons at Bucknell. He was the Bisons' offensive line coach in 1995 and 1996 before a promotion to offensive coordinator in 1997 and 1998. He was also defensive coordinator at Livingstone College (1993), offensive line/tight ends coach at North Carolina Central (1991-92) and graduate assistant at his alma mater, the University of Minnesota (1989-90)

Wilson was a captain and two-year starter for the Gophers. In 1985, the team defeated Clemen to win the Independence Bowl and competed in the Liberty Bowl versus Tennessee the following year. He was a three-year letterwinner in football, and earned two letters and qualified for the NGAC Championships as a heavyweight in wrestling. He graduated from Minnesota in 1989 with a decree in soxcholosy.

In addition to his college coaching experience, Wilson has served minority coaching fellowships in the NFL with the Kansas City Chiefs (1992), the Jacksonville Jaguars (1995) under two-time Super Bowl champion head coach Tom Coughlin and the Indianapolis Colts (2000).

Wilson and his wife, Brenda, have three children - Cecil, Trinity and Sahara.

OFFENSIVE LINE

Mitch Browning is in his second season as the offensive line coach at Rutgers. He has 35 years of coaching experience, including stops at six BCS programs and appearances in 12 previous bowl games (seven in 10 years at Minnesota).

Browning joined the Scarlet Knights prior to the 2013 New Era Pinstripe Rowl In his first full season with RII in 2014, Browning coached an offensive line that was part of a unit that ranked second in the Big Ten in red zone offense, third in sacks allowed and sixth in passing offense.

Prior to arriving 'On the Banks,' Browning spent 2013 as assistant head coach at Davidson University, coaching the offensive line and tight ends.

Browning coached the offensive line at Akron for two years (2010-11) before coaching the running backs and tight ends at Ashland University in 2012. Ashland earned its best ranking in school history in 2012 (No. 4).

He also spent one year as offensive coordinator at Syracuse in 2008 and one season at Tennessee in 2009 as the Volunteers' co-offensive line cnach

Browning spent 10 years as an assistant at Minnesota from 1997-2006, including seven years as the offensive line coach. He came to Minnesota after spending nine years as an assistant coach at Kansas (1988-96). He was part of two Kansas teams that finished in the Top 25.

Browning was a finalist for the Frank Broyles Award in 2003, which is presented annually to the nation's top assistant coach. In 2003, Browning was co-offensive coordinator at Minnesota as the Golden Gophers set a school and Big Ten record of 6.430 vards of total offense. Minnesota finished the 2003 campaign with 3,789 yards rushing (fourth-best total at the time in Big Ten history) and scored 503 points (sixth-best total at the time in Big Ten history).

In 2005, Minnesota became the first team in Big Ten history to post three consecutive 3,000-yard rushing seasons and the first team in NCAA history to have two 1.000-vard rushers in three consecutive seasons. The Golden Gophers led the Big Ten in rushing offense, total offense and scoring offense, placing second nationally in rushing offense and fifth in total offense.

In 2004, the Golden Gophers led the Big Ten in rushing and scoring. Before Browning arrived in Minnesota, the Goohers ranked 11th in rushing offense and ninth in total offense in the conference. Through continued improvement under his watch, Minnesota finished first in both categories in 2003 and broke virtually every offensive record in school history as the Big Ten's top offense.

Browning has recruited 20 players during his career that played in the NFL, including first round draft picks Dana Stubblefield and Laurence Ma-

Browning is a native of Perrysville, Ohio. He is married to the former Jane Grey Baldwin.

Anthony Campanile is in his fourth season on the Rutgers coaching staff and third as a full-time assistant coach. Campanile transitioned to wide receivers coach in 2015 after spending the previous two seasons as tight ends coach and 2012 as a defensive assistant.

In 2013, he helped mentor tight end Tyler Kroft to SI.com Honorable Mention All-America and First Team All-American Athletic Conference. Kroft led the team in receiving yards (573) and receptions (43). After another standout campaign in 2014, Kroft was selected in the third round (85th overall) of the 2015 NFL Draft by the Cincinnati Bengals.

As a defensive assistant in 2012, Campanile helped coach a unit that finished fourth in the nation in scoring defense (14.15 points allowed/game), tied for ninth in turnovers gained (32) and 10th in total defense (311.62 yards allowed/game).

The former Scarlet Knight safety and linebacker (2001-04) previously served as offensive coordinator at Don Bosco Prep in Ramsey, N.J., leading the Ironmen to NJSIAA Group IV State Championships in 2010 and 2011. Don Bosco's 2011 squad compiled an II-0 record and earned a No. 1 national ranking in several polls, including USA Today.

Campanile started his coaching career as a student assistant coach for Rutgers in 2005. He then went on to Fair Lawn High School in Fair Lawn, N.J., for a season. Campanile served as linebacker coach at Don Bosco Prep in 2007 before assuming offensive coordinator duties in 2010. A 2007 graduate of Rutgers, Campanile earned a degree in history.

Campanile and his wife, Tracey, welcomed their first child, a daughter named Valentina in May. The couple resides in Piscataway.

BOB FRASER

LINEBACKERS

Bob Fraser is in his third tenure at Rutgers and second season as linebackers coach. He was on the coaching staff from 2006-11 in various capacities, including defensive coordinator in 2011. Fraser began his coaching career at Rutgers as a graduate assistant in 1987.

In his return to Rutgers, Fraser helped coach linebacker Steve Longa to a standout sophmore season in 2014 as Longa led the Scarlet Knights with 102 tackles. Fraser also served as the special teams coordinator.

Fraser spent two seasons with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, including serving as the assistant defensive coordinator in 2013. During that season, the Buccaneers placed two players on the Associated Press All-Pro First Team in defensive tackle Gerald McCoy and outside linebacker Lavonte David - a first for the franchise since 2005.

In 2012, Fraser coached David to an outstanding rookie campaign as he led the team in both tackles and tackles for loss, while ranking in the top 10 in the NFL in tackles and among the top five in the league in solo tackles and tackles for loss. David was named NFL Rookie of the Month for November, becoming the first Buccaneer to win the award.

During his second stint at RU from 2006-11, Fraser was instrumental in helping orchestrate some of Rutgers' finest defensive units. In 2011, his defense finished first in the Big East Conference in four defensive categories: total defense, scoring defense, pass defense and pass efficiency defense. It also ranked in the top 20 nationally in total defense (14th), scoring defense (8th), pass defense (9th), pass efficiency defense (5th), sacks (15th) and tackles for loss (8th), In addition, Rutgers linebacker Khaseem Greene was named both an All-American and the first Big East Co-Defensive Player of the Year in school history.

In his first season as a defensive coordinator in 2009, Fraser helped the Scarlet Knights to a top 20 national rankings in six categories, including leading the nation in tackles for loss and ranking fourth in sacks. RU was 15th in the country in rushing defense, 16th in scoring defense and 18th in total defense.

After spending his first season with the Scarlet Knights in 2006 as assistant to the head coach, Fraser worked the 2007-08 seasons with the linebacking before taking on defensive coordinator duties, along with coaching linebackers, for 2009-10.

Before joining the RU staff, Fraser served nine seasons coaching linebackers at Colgate University. During his tenure, he tutored three Patriot League Defensive Player of the Year honorees, nine All-Patriot League selections and two All-Americans.

Fraser started his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Allegheny College, during the 1985-86 seasons. He later served in the same role at Rutgers for the 1987-88 seasons, where he worked with Greg Schiano who was then a graduate assistant as well.

Fraser returned to Allegheny for the 1989 season in his first full-time position, spending three seasons as linebackers coach. The Gators were undefeated for two seasons, and in 1990, won the NCAA Division III National Championship.

Fraser graduated from Allegheny in 1985 with a computer science degree. He and his wife, Cheryl, have three children - Justin, Jason and Jessica.

JIM PANAGOS DEFENSIVE LINE

Jim Panagos is in his fourth season as defensive line coach at Rutgers. He has served as an assistant at both on the collegiate level and in the NFL during his career.

In Rutgers' first season in the Big Ten, Panagos helped guide a pair of Scarlet Knights to all-conference awards. Defensive tackle Darius Hamilton and defensive end Kemoko Turay each received honorable mention on the All-Big Ten team.

Hamilton led the defense with 11.5 tackles-for-loss, including a career-best six sacks. Turay picked up a team-high 7.5 sacks, ranking eighth among Big Ten players.

Panagos has been integral in the development of Hamilton, who led RU with 11.5 tackles-for-loss and was second with 4.5 sacks as a sophomore in 2013. He earned Phil Steele Third Team All-American Athletic Conference. As a unit, RU ranked fourth in the nation in rushing, limiting opponents to 100.8 yards per game.

Following the 2013 season, Marcus Thompson, who played rush end for the Scarlet Knights, signed an NFL contract with the Miami Dolphins. Thompson led Rutgers with 5.5 sacks his senior season.

In 2012, the Scarlet Knights finished fourth in the nation in scoring defense (14.15 points allowed/game), tied for ninth in turnovers gained (32) and 10th in total defense (311.62 yards allowed/game) in his first season at RU. He guided Scott Vallone to First Team All-Big East honors after recording 52 tackles and three sacks.

The defensive line was also a key part in a Rutgers defense that ranked 18th nationally with 7.31 tackles-for-loss per game in 2012. In addition, Rutgers ranked sixth nationally in rushing defense, yielding just 97.2 yards per contest. Rutgers also allowed only six rushing touchdowns the entire 2012 season, the third-lowest amount in the nation.

Senior defensive end Ka'Lial Glaud signed a free agent contract with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers following the 2013 NFL Draft.

Panagos completed his fifth season as defensive line coach at the University of Central Florida in 2011 as UCF appeared in three bowl games while on staff. In 2011, UCF ranked nirth nationally in total defense, ninth in scoring defense, eighth in pass efficiency defense and 18th in rushing defense. They led Conference USA in total defense, scoring defense, pass defense and rushing defense,

In 2010, UCF enjoyed one of its best seasons in school history, finishing 11-3. The Knights went 7-1 in league play and claimed the Conference USA Championship title. UCF entered the national rankings for the first time and picked up its first bowl win with a 10-6 victory over Georgia in the AutoZone Liberty Bowl.

UCF ranked in the top-10 nationally in both rushing and scoring defense during its 11-3 season. Leading the position group was Bruce Miller, who was named the C-USA Defensive Player of the Year for the second-straight season. Miller was selected by the San Francisco 49ers in the seventh round of the 2011 NFL Draft. Miller graduated as the nation's active leader with 35.5 career sacks and ranked third with 57.5 career taskles for loss. After the 2010 season, Panagos was selected as a national all-star assistant by Rivals.com.

FootballScoop.com named Panagos its National Defensive Line Coach of the Year in 2009 after a season in which the Knights led Conference USA in several defensive categories. Miller (13) and Jarvis Geathers (11) both hit double-digits in sacks while tackle Torell Troup was a second round selection in the NFL Draft by the Buffalo Bills.

In 2008, UCF's defensive line was one of the strongest in the country. The group helped the Knights rank first in C-USA in three categories - rushing defense, pass efficiency defense and tackles-for-loss. UCF recorded 8.62 tackles for loss per game, third nationally.

In Panagos' first season in Orlando in 2007, UCF finished the year 10-4, including a C-USA Championship crown and an appearance in the AutoZone Uberty Bowl. The Knights' defensive front showed great improvement during the season by totaling 39 sacks, which ranked first in C-USA and 24th nationally.

Panagos helped three Knights gain individual conference honors during the 2007 campaign as both Leger Douzable and Keith Shologan went on to sign free agent contracts in the NFL.

Prior to moving to Orlando, Panagos coached on the Minnesota Vikings staff in the NFL. During the 2004 campaign, Panagos worked with Kevin Williams that season as the All-Pro led all NFL defensive tackles with 11.5 sacks.

Panagos played football at the University of Maryland (1989-92) where he was a two-time letterwinner at defensive tackle and led the Terrapins in sacks (5) and tackles-for-loss (12) as a senior.

In 1993, he began his coaching career as the assistant defensive line coach at his alma mater. Before joining the Terrapins, Panagos spent four years teaching mathematics and coaching football at the C.R. James Alternative School in Tampa, Fla. He also volunteered with Tampa's WMCA football program.

Panagos earned his bachelor's degree in criminal justice from Maryland in 1993. A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., he attended East Islip High School on Long Island, where he earned first-team all-state honors in football. Panagos and his wife, Maureen, have three children: Jack, Hayden and Olivia.

DARRELL WILSON

DEFENSIVE BACKS

Darrell Wilson is in his third season as the defensive backs coach at Rutgers and second stint with the Scarlet Knights. He served as the running backs coach at RU in 1999.

Wilson spent 13 seasons in the Big Ten (11 at Iowa, two at Wisconsin) prior to returning to Rutgers in 2013. In 2013, Wilson helped develop a unit that saw five freshmen start at cornerback.

Wilson coached the secondary for the Hawkeyes in 2012, while assisting with special teams. He worked with all the linebacker positions and special teams for the four seasons prior after working with special teams and outside linebackers in his first six seasons in Iowa City. He was named by Rivals.com in Feb. 2011 as one of the top 25 recruiters in the nation, primarily recruiting New Jersey, Maryland and Pennsylvania.

Iowa won 89 games during his tenure, with 52 Big Ten victories. While at Iowa, the program participated in 10 bowl games with six taking place in January. The Hawkeyes finished ranked in the final top 10 of both major polls four times in his 11 seasons.

Iowa ranked among national leaders in interceptions in under Wilson's watch. The Hawkeyes collected 10 interceptions in 2012, returning two of those for touchdowns. Cornerback Micah Hyde was honored with the Tatum-Woodson Defensive Back of the Year award, presented by the Big Ten, while earning First Team All-Big Ten honors.

In 2010, the Hawkeyes ranked fifth in the nation in total defense (392.1), sixth in rushing defense (101.5) and seventh in scoring defense (17.0). Iowa also tied for seventh in turnover margin (+13) and 11th in interceptions (19). True freshman James Morris earned Freshman All-America honors at middle linebacker. Iowa's special teams ranked sixth nationally in punt coverage (3.9) and 12th in kickoff returns (25.3).

Wilson joined the Iowa staff after serving as outside linebacker coach and special teams coordinator at Wisconsin for two years (2000-01). One of his star players at Wisconsin was punter Kevin Stemke, winner of the 2000 Ray Guy Punter of the Year Award.

He also coached running backs at Rutgers (1999) and the secondary and wide receivers at Rhode Island (1996-98).

Before his collegiate coaching career began, he compiled a 65-18 record as head coach at Woodrow Wilson High School in Camden, N.J. (1988-95). His teams won five conference championships and four times advanced to the South Jersey Group 3 state finals. Along with the outstanding success of his teams on the football field, Wilson was named Camden's "Citizen of the Year" by the Rotary Club in 1992.

A former honorable mention Division I-AA All-America defensive back for Connecticut (1976-80), Wilson was named to the Huskies' 100th anniversary all-time team in 1998. He played one year with the New England Patriots (1981) and five seasons (1982-86) with the CFL's Toronto Argonauts. He was a member of the 1983 squad that won the CFL's Grey Cup.

Wilson graduated from Connecticut (1981) with a B.A. in sociology. He and his wife, Monica, have four daughters, Brianna, Kayla, Kiana and Jehlani.

JEREMY COLE

HEAD STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING COACH

Jeremy Cole is in his fourth season as head strength and conditioning coach with Rutgers football, helping the program win its first BIG EAST title in 2012. He previously served as a strength and conditioning assistant for the Scarlet Knights for four seasons.

Cole directs all aspects of the football team's in-season and offseason training in addition to numerous other responsibilities.

The 2015 offseason marked a banner year for the Rutgers strength and conditioning program as the Scarlet Knights broke 19 previously established school records in the weight room. The record-setting performances were a focus of the program heading into the second season in the Big Ten Conference.

Cole played a key part in developing seven Scarlet Knights who were selected in the 2013 NFL Draft while another five players from the 2012 Big East Championship squad signed NFL free agent contracts.

He served as an assistant strength and conditioning coach with the University of North Carolina during the 2007 season, primarily focusing on the Tar Heel football team. Prior to his stint with the Tar Heels, Cole spent one season at the University of Kansas as an assistant strength and conditioning coach with the Jayhawk football team. The 2006 KU team reached six victories for only the third time in its prior 11 seasons, including a 39-20 rout of conference rival Kansas State.

Cole began his career as a personal trainer in the professional ranks, working for the National Football League's Indianapolis Colts from 2005-06.

A four-year letterwinner at University of Findlay, he played safety for the Oilers. Cole was an all-conference selection, team captain and team MVP. He is the son of former Pittsburgh Steeler and two-time Super Bowl Champion Robin Cole.

A 2004 graduate of the University of Findlay, Cole is the proud father of his son, Jalyn.

COACHING STAFF

WILL GILKISON DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

Will Gilkison enters his fifth season as Director of Football Operations. Gilkison spent the previous year serving as the Director of External Operations and prior to that stint was a member of the Rutgers foot ball staff for three seasons.

Gilkison's duties include the over sight of the day-to-day operations of the football program, along with logistical and budgetary responsibilities. He also manages team travel, organizes preseason camp and serves as the team's liaison to other athletic department offices and university branches.

A four-year letterwinner at linebacker with the Scarlet Knights, Gilkison captained the 2005 Insight Bowl team and was the recipient of the Paul Robeson Award, presented annually to the individual whose performance, leadership, and dedication on and off the field during his career has had the greatest impact on Rutgers football. Gilkison became a member of the staff in 2006 as a student assistant. He was responsible for helping prepare and implement weekly practice schedules. Gilkison also worked as a strength and conditioning assistant during this time, creating and facilitating off-season training programs while instructing players in skill development.

In 2008, Gilkison joined the player development staff, serving as a mentor for first and second year players. He oversaw the transition of these individuals into the college environment, assisting them with basic life skills, time management, goal setting and prioritizing. He and his wife Katie currently reside in Union Beach, N.J. The couple have four children, Margaret, William, Grace and Gunnar.

EJ Barthel is in his first season as director of recruiting in 2015. He previously served as an assistant on the Rutgers recruiting staff in 2014. A resident of East Rutherford, N.J., Barthel was a member of the Scarlet Knights from 2003-05 where he played fullback under former Rutgers head coach Greg Schiano.

Barthel transferred to the University of Massachusetts-Amherst where he finished his collegiate playing career, spending two seasons with the Minutemen from 2006-07. While at UMass, Barthel appeared in the FCS National Championship game against Appalachian State in 2006.

Following his college playing career, Barthel was invited to mini-camp with the New York Giants during the 2008 and 2009 seasons. He later played in the UFL under former Giants head coach Jim Fassel with the Las Vegas Locomotives.

Barthel began his coaching career leading high school prospect camps, building relationships with coaches and players across the country from 2010-14. He spent three seasons as an assistant coach in the Northern New Jersey area with stints at De-Paul Catholic and Bergen Catholic High School. Barthel also founded Explosive Training Systems (ETS), where he coached, trained and mentored hundreds of elite student-athletes. ETS worked with over 30 high school football programs offering team-wide training.

SEĀN BĀROWSKI

DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Sean Barowski is entering his first full season on the Rutgers coaching staff as a defensive assistant. Barowski recently graduated from Rutgers after serving as a student assistant coach for the Scarlet Knights through the 2014 season. where he worked with the linehackers.

Barowski, a Harrisburg, Pa. native, joined the Scarlet Knights in 2011 as a walk-on fullback until his career was ended due to injury. Barowski recorded 312 tackles, had 615 all-purpose yards and 22 catches at Bishop McDevitt High School as a fullback and linebacker.

ROCCO DIMECO OFFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Rocco DiMeco is in his second year at Rutgers, where he is a special teams assistant. He came to Piscataway after spending 2013 at Holy Cross, where he was an outside linebackers coach.

Prior to that, DiMeco spent two years at Anna Maria College, where he served as the co-defensive coordinator, linebackers coach and strength coach. Among the players he coached was linebacker Jordan Koehler. who earned Second Team All-Eastern Collegiate Football Conference honors in 2012.

DiMeco was previously the linebackers coach and strength coach for Anna Maria in 2011. when he helped the Amcats to their first two victories since adding football as a varsity sport in 2009.

A four-year starter at Norwich University as an inside linebacker, DiMeco served as team captain during his senior year and earned First Team All-Eastern Collegiate Football Conference honors as a junior. He also led the Cadets to the Eastern Collegiate Football Conference title in 2009 with a perfect 6-0 mark in league games. DiMeco is a native of Holden, Mass.

COACHING STAFF

SCOTT VALLONE

DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Scott Vallone returns to Rutgers for his first year on the coaching staff as a defensive assistant. Vallone spent last season as an assistant coach with St. Lawrence University working with the defensive line.

While at St. Lawrence, Vallone coached defensive lineman Chyron Brown-Wallace. The sophomore was named a NCAA Division III All-American, First Team All-Region by D3Football. com and First-Team All-Liberty League.

Vallone graduated from Rutgers in 2012 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in economics. He was a four-year starter for the Scarlet Knights at defensive tackle and was a First Team All-BIG EAST selection in 2012. Vallone amassed 195 tackles in 51 consecutive starts. The Central Islip, N.Y. native received the David Bender Trophy after his senior season, awarded to the top defensive lineman. As a senior he had 50 tackles, including a team-high 12.0 tackles for loss. After his freshman season he was named a FWAA Freshman All-American and placed on Phil Steele's Freshman All-American team.

Following graduation, Vallone played in the East-West Shrine Game, and had professional stints with three NFL teams, including the Miami Dolphins, Detroit Lions and New England Patriots. He also spent time in the CFL with the Montreal Alouettes.

ANDREW LIEBERMAN

Andrew Lieberman is in his first year as an offensive assistant at Rutgers and second overall in the program. He spent the 2014 season working with the RU offensive staff in player development, helping film study and game preparation. Lieberman also assisted with quarterback drill work at practice and drew scout team cards to prep the defensive scout team among other duties. He will continue to work with quarterbacks as a graduate assistant.

Prior to arriving in Piscataway, Lieberman worked as an offensive graduate assistant and video coordinator during the 2013 season at Albany. His job responsibilities with the Great Danes included executing the daily video operations, breaking down opponent film and assisting with all aspects of recruiting. In addition, he worked as the assistant wide receivers coach

Lieberman played quarterback at Wesleyan University for two seasons before becoming a student assistant coach for his final two seasons of college. He worked with the quarterbacks and also coordinated video operations and served as junior varsity assistant head coach/offensive coordinator. Lieberman earned his degree from Wesleyan in May 2013.

Lieberman was born in New York City and graduated from Portland High School in Portland, Maine, in 2009. He founded the Air It Out Passing Academy, Maine's first elite football training camp.

Jenna Beverly arrived at Rutgers in September of 2004 bringing experience in academics and compliance from the University of Oregon and the University of Connecticut. Beverly's current role is as Director of Football Academic Support.

Under the watch of Beverly, the football program has continued its established trend as one of the nation's top programs in the classroom and on the playing field. Rutgers tied for 12th nationally in Academic Progress Rate according to the latest multi-year figures and was the lone state university to be ranked in the top 10 percent nationally in APR for the eighth consecutive year. The APR measures eligibility, graduation and retention each semester or quarter and provides a clear picture of the academic performance for each team in each sport. The Scarlet Knights continue to be one of the leaders nationally in both production on the field and in the classroom. Following the 2014 season, Rutgers football placed 27 students on the Big Ten All-Academic Team, the fourth-most among the conference teams. Included in this group was David Milewski, who was named a First Team Academic All-America and earned a prestigious NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship, Additionally, Milewski along with Michael Burton, Tyler Kroft and Lorenzo Waters were selected to the National Football Foundation (NFF) Hampshire Honor Society for their work in the class-

Previous to this role, Beverly's responsibilities at Rutgers included serving as an academic advisor for the football program, while also overseeing the academic support services programs, including supplemental instruction, learning assistance and tutoring. She was responsible for hiring, scheduling and monitoring Academic Services staff in accordance with NCAA regulations of these programs. In her time at Rutgers, the football program has been consistently in the top 10 nationally in APR ranking.

Prior to arriving "On The Banks," Beverly served as a graduate assistant at the University of Oregon in compliance and then as an academic advisor, spending two years in each role. In between the two positions at Oregon, Beverly came back east for a brief stint at the University of Connecticut as a compliance assistant, handling initial eligibility along with other duties. During her time at the University of Oregon, Beverly received her Master's Degree in Higher Education Administration.

Beverly, a native of Northbridge, Mass., graduated from the University of Kansas in 2000 with a Bachelor's Degree in psychology. While at Kansas, she lettered her freshman year in softball and then worked with the women's basketball program during her final three years.

She resides in North Brunswick, N.J., with her husband, Gil, and their son, Kaden.

MIKE KUZNIAK DIRECTOR OF PLAYER SERVICES

Mike Kuzniak is in his 12th year at Rutgers in 2015 and eighth as the Director of Player Services. His primary responsibilities are to provide overall leadership, oversight and supervision of the daily operations and performance of the Athletic Equipment office and RU football team.

Kuzniak started as a student manager in the equipment room on August 2004 and took charge of management of junior football managers. He also assisted with the shipping and receiving, handling and maintenance of athletic equipment, while creating an inventory database for indoor and outdoor equipment and apparel.

A two-time graduate of Rutgers, Kuzniak earned his Bachelor of Arts in 2006 as a world history major and psychology minor. He followed that with a Master's of Arts in teaching with a focus on elementary/special education in 2008.

Prior to arriving on campus, he served in the United States Marine Corps, with stops in Parris Island, S.C., Camp Pendleton, Calif., Little Creek, Va., and Okinawa, Japan.

Kuzniak and his wife, Jamie, reside in Old Bridge, N.J.

COACHING STAFF

DAVID McCUNE HEAD FOOTBALL ATHLETIC TRAINER

For over the past decade, the health and wellness of the Rutgers football team has been the responsibility of Head Football Athletic Trainer David McCune. In his 15th season with the Scarlet Knights in 2015, McCune oversees all aspects of athletic training from injury prevention to rehabilitation within the program. McCune also assists with the coordination of the entire athletic department's athletic training staff.

He has worked with head coach Kyle Flood since his arrival as an assistant coach in 2008. McCune worked for former Rutgers and Tampa Bay Buccaneers head coach Greg Schiano for more than a decade, also serving as Coordinator of Athletic Training and Football Athletic Trainer at the University of Miami for four seasons (1997-2000), before joining the Scarlet Knights for the 2001 season.

McCune, a Virginia native, received his Bachelor's Degree from James Madison, and earned his Master's Degree from Missouri State University. He began his career as an Assistant Athletic Trainer at Missouri State in 1989, where he worked for one year before being named Head Athletic Trainer at the University of Miam's HealthSouth Sports Medicine Clinic (1989-93), and named the Director of the Clinic from 1993-95.

He then returned to his alma mater, James Madison, as Athletic Trainer, where he served from 1995-97 before joining the University of Miami program.

McCune and his wife, Annie, reside in Piscataway. He is the proud father of three sons, Devon, Braden and Alex.

DR. ROBERT MONACO ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS/SPORTS MEDICINE

Dr. Robert Monaco is in his 20th year as the Associate Director of Athletics/Sports Medicine and has served as Team Physician for the football program since his arrival in 1996. In addition to working with the football team, Dr. Monaco oversees the medical treatment for all of the University's sports. His responsibilities also include supervising a group of 11 full-time certified athletic trainers and a support staff in sports nutrition and psychology.

In addition to his work with the Scarlet Knights, Dr. Monaco is a clinical professor in the Department of Family Medicine at Rutgers-Robert Wood Johnson Medical School and is associate director of the school's Sports Medicine Fellowship Program.

His educational background includes a Bachelor's Degree from Columbia University, where he competed in wrestling and captained the team his senior year. He went on to receive his medical degree from Rutgers - New Jersey Medical School (formerly UMDNJ) where he was a member of the Alpha Omega Alpha Medical Honor Society. He completed his residency at Rutgers - Robert Wood Johnson Medical School New Brunswick, working with the Department of Family Medicine.

Dr. Monaco has also done postgraduate study and completed a fellowship in Sports Medicine at Rutgers - Robert Wood Johnson Medical School, which included work at Princeton University and the Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City. In addition, Dr. Monaco holds a Master's degree in public health from Rutgers. He has particular interest and expertise in sports ultrasound and biological approaches to muscle and tendon injuries as well as concussions for which he is an active researcher with multiple grants.

A native of Nutley, N.J., Dr. Monaco comes from a family of physical educators, coaches and athletes. Dr. Monaco and his wife, Carolyn, are the proud parents of two children, Antonio and Angelina.

RICKY PĀLMER

VIDEO COORDINATOR

Ricky Palmer is in his sixth season as video coordinator for the Rutgers football program after joining the staff in March 2010. The Collegiate Sports Video Association named Palmer the 2011 and 2012 Big East Video Coordinator of the Year. He was selected by a majority vote of his neers to receive the honors

Prior to arriving at Rutgers, Palmer worked three seasons in the video department for the NFL's Cincinnati Bengals from 2007-10.

At Rutgers, Palmer's daily responsibilities include fulfilling all internal visual needs of the program, while being primarily in charge of filming and editing video for instant analysis by the coaching staff through the use the latest video technology. Palmer also oversees the assistant video coordinator and a staff of several student assistants.

A 2006 graduate of Wilmington College in Wilmington, Ohio, Palmer earned a degree in communications. Palmer was also a four-year letterman on the football team at Wilmington.

Palmer began his career as an intern in the video department with the Cleveland Browns during the 2006 season

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Palmer currently lives in Piscataway with his wife, Eileen, their daughter, Riley Belle, and their dog, Buddy.

SHAWN TUCKER ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR/STUDENT-ATHLETE

DEVELOPMENT

Shawn Tucker is in his sixth season as Associate Athletic Director for Student-Athlete Development.

Tucker, a 2007 graduate of Rutgers University and a former standout at wide receiver on the football team, leads the Rutgers Leadership Academy for student-athletes. Through programming and counseling, the Rutgers Leadership Academy helps to fortify student-athletes at Rutgers with valuable information and tools to guide decision-making in critical life-shaping areas such as career choice, personal enrichment, leadership, civic engagement and professional growth. Over the past three years from the guidance and support from Tucker and his team, 65 percent of the graduating seniors each year landed a full-time job or were accepted into a graduate school program.

In May 2014, Tucker was selected to serve on the NCAA Life Skills Academy Action Team for DT, DTI and DTTI institutions. He was instrumental in organizing the first "R Awards" banquet held following the 2014-15 year, which recognized student-athlete achievement on and off the field of competition

Tucker came to Rutgers from Douglas High School in Parkland, Fla. He was named team captain as a senior and helped lead Rutgers to its first of four consecutive football bowl championships in 2006. A four-year letterwinner for the Scarlet Knights, Tucker was a key member of two bowl squads during his career "On the Banks."

As an undergraduate, Tucker served on the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee. He graduated with a double major in geography and labor studies in May 2007 and began working for the Office of Continuing Professional Education at Rutgers as a program coordinator for their T.E.E.M. Gateway program. While there, Tucker was a member of a staff that received the 2010 Diversity Leadership Award.

Tucker participated in the implementation of the YE2S Center, a partnership among Rutgers, Newark Public Schools, the City of Newark and Communities in Schools of New Jersey focusing on providing education and employment services for youth in Essex County. Tucker has also mentored youth in Newark through the Rutgers Green Rangers Mural program, which focused on the beautification and revitalization of Newark through the Arts, while also serving as a key collaborator in the New Jersey High School Dropout Prevention Campaign.

Tucker received a master's degree in city and regional planning from Rutgers. Tucker and his wife, Maria, reside in New Brunswick. They are the proud parents of one son, Miguel.

SCOTT WALKER

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF ACADEMIC SUPPORT SERVICES FOR STUDENT-ATHLETES

Since his arrival at Rutgers in 2004, Scott Walker has worked diligently to put Rutgers Athletics on the map academically as the Director of Football Academic Support and most recently as the Executive Director of Academic Support Services for Student-Athletes. In his role, Walker oversees the entire academic program for Rutgers student-athletes.

During the previous 10 years at RU, Walker has helped the football program establish unprecedented success in the classroom, further upholding the high academic standards of Rutgers University. The team has stood as a pillar for great achievement both on the field and in the classroom.

In the most recent Academic Progress Rate (APR) report, Rutgers saw nine teams either tie or set program records for their multiyear scores. In addition, 20 programs either equaled or improved their multiyear APR score from the previous mark. Football, women's lacrosse and women's golf all earned public recognition from the NCAA for their work. Rutgers has had two National Football Foundation Scholar Athletes in Brian Leonard and Brandon Renkart during Walker's tenure. Leonard received the prestigious Draddy Trophy, recognized as the "Academic Heisman," in 2006.

Prior to his tenure at Rutgers, Walker spent 17 years as an assistant football coach. His career included stints at Texas, Purdue, Iowa, Maine, Georgia Tech and Cornell. He also served three years as the Director of Football Academics at Georgia Tech.

Walker graduated from Princeton in 1984 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in geology. During his time at Princeton, he worked as the freshman defensive ends coach from 1982-84. In addition to attending college in New Jersey, Walker spent 15 years recruiting the New Jersey metropolitan area for various universities during his coaching career.

Scott and his wife, Michelle, have a son, Kyle, who is a sophomore on the baseball team at Rutgers.

HISTORY

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

BIG

Known as one of intercollegiate sports' most successful undertakings, the Big Ten is home to a lineage of legendary names and an ongoing tradition of developing strong leaders. Even in its infancy, the conference established itself as the preeminent collection of institutions in the nation, where the pursuit of academic excellence prevailed as the definitive goal.

The history of the Big Ten traces back 120 years to the Palmer House hotel in Chicago, where on January 11, 1895, then-Purdue president James H. Smart and leaders from the University of Chicago, University of Illinois, University of Michigan, University of Minnesota, Northwestern University and University of Wisconsin set out to organize and develop principles for the regulation of intercollegiate athletics.

At that meeting, a blueprint for the administration of college athletics under the direction of appointed faculty representatives was outlined. The presidents' first known action "restricted eligibility for athletics to bonafide, full-time students who were not delinquent in their studies." That important legislation, along with other legislation that would follow in the coming years, served as the primary building block for intercollegiate athletics.

On February 8, 1896, one faculty member from each of those seven universities met at the same Palmer House and officially established the mechanics of the conference, which was officially incorporated as the "Intercollegiate Conference Athletic Association" in 1905.

Indiana University and the State University of Iowa became the eighth and ninth members in 1899. In 1908, Michigan briefly withdrew its membership, and in 1912 Ohio State University joined the conference, bringing its membership total back to nine. Upon Michigan's return in 1917, the conference was first referred to as the "Big Ten" by media members, and that name was eventually incorporated in 1987.

As the 1900s opened, faculty representatives established rules for intercollegiate athletics that were novel for the time. As early as 1904, the faculty approved legislation that required eligible athletes to meet entrance requirements and to have completed a full year's work, along with having one year of residence.

In 1901, the first Big Ten Championship event was staged when the outdoor track and field championships were held at the University of Chicago. The debut event marked what is now a staple of conference competition. Today, the Big Ten sponsors 28 official sports, 14 for men and 14 for women, including the addition of men's ice hockey and men's and women's lacrosse the last two years. Big Ten schools compete in a total of 42 different sports, furthering the conference's commitment to broad-based programming and providing more participation opportunities than any conference in the country.

One of the conference's proudest traditions began in 1902 when Michigan took on Stanford in the Rose Bowl, the nation's first bowl game. Big Ten teams only appeared in Pasadena twice before the conference signed an exclusive contract with the Tournament of Roses in 1946, making it the first bowl game with permanent conference affiliations. But Michigan's appearance in 1902 cultivated a relationship that has endured for more than a century. In January 2014, Michigan State defeated Stanford in the 100th Rose Bowl Game.

Coupling the academic goals set forth by the leaders of the charter members of the conference and their steadfast commitment to athletics, the conference instituted the Big Ten Medal of Honor in 1915. It is awarded annually by each conference institution to a student of the graduating class who has attained the greatest proficiency in scholarship and athletics. It is the most prestigious honor a student competing in Big Ten athletics can receive.

In 1922, Major John L. Griffith became the conference's first "Commissioner of Athletics." Griffith was the first of five men to assume the role of commissioner in the conference's history, followed by Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson in 1945, Bill Reed in 1961, Wayne Duke in 1971 and current commissioner James E. Delany in 1989.

After nearly 30 years with 10 members, the conference consolidated to nine schools when the University of Chicago formally withdrew its membership in 1946. Michigan State College (now Michigan State University) was added to the Big Ten three years later, bringing the number of affiliated conference schools to 10 once again.

In 1955, the Big Ten formulated a revenue-sharing model designed to pool all football television rights of its members and share those proceeds equally. The conference and its members continue to utilize a revenue-sharing model, dividing media rights, bowl payouts and other profits among all conference institutions.

While academics have always played an integral role in the conference, presidents of the Big Ten member institutions formalized the primacy of academics with the establishment of the Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) in 1958. The CIC was formed as an academic consortium of all Big Ten universities and founding conference member Chicago. In 2013, the 15 schools currently constituting the CIC produced over $10 billion in funded research, $4 billion more than any other conference.

In one of Duke's first actions as commissioner, he oversaw the adoption of the Big Ten Advisory Commission in 1972, designed to study conference programs and make suggestions which would further Big Ten objectives. The Advisory Commission enlists former students that competed in Big Ten athletics to serve as liaisons to the NCAA's Diversity and Inclusion Department, the Big Ten Student-Athlete Advisory Commission and other organizations.

In 1981, the conference presidents and chancellors endorsed a proposal that enabled universities to affiliate their women's intercollegiate programs with the conference, and the first conference championships for women were staged that fall. The Big Ten was the first conference to voluntarily adopt male and female participation goals after launching its Gender Equity Action Plan in 1992.

In December of 1989, the conference agreed in principle to invite Pennsylvania State University for membership. On June 4, 1990, the Council of Presidents officially voted to integrate Penn State into the conference, giving the Big Ten 11 members.

In 2004, the Big Ten implemented a pilot program of instant replay for college football. Following the season, the conference forwarded replay proposals to the NCAA regarding the future use of instant replay, where it approved country-wide testing in 2005. In 2006, the NCAA approved the use of instant replay for all conferences.

In 2006, Commissioner Delany announced the creation of the first conference-owned television network, a 20-year agreement with Fox Networks to create what would become the Big Ten Network (BTN). Launched on Aug. 30, 2007, BTN now produces more than 1,000 events across all platforms each year. BTN is in more than 60 million homes in the U.S. and Canada via the nation's major cable, satellite and telco providers and more than 300 additional cable operators across the country. BTN2Go is the digital extension of BTN, delivering live and on-demand programming to computers, smartphones and tablets and also is accessible outside the U.S., Canada and the Caribbean via BTN2Go International.

On June 11, 2010, the Big Ten Council of Presidents/Chancellors (COP/C) approved a formal membership application by the University of Nebraska, expanding the conference to 12 institutions. Nebraska officially joined the Big Ten Conference on July 1, 2011.

The conference expanded its footprint further in 2012 when the COP/C approved formal membership applications from the University of Maryland and Rutgers University on November 19 and 20, respectively. Maryland and Rutgers became official Big Ten members on July 1, 2014, giving the conference almost 9,500 students participating in intercollegiate athletics and more than 11,000 participation opportunities on 350 teams.

On June 3, 2013, the Big Ten announced that Johns Hopkins University had been accepted as the conference's first sport affiliate member. Johns Hopkins' addition in men's lacrosse gave the Big Ten six institutions sponsoring the sport, allowing the debut of men's lacrosse as an official conference sport and building on the Big Ten's tradition of broad-based sports competition. On June 17, 2015, the conference announced that Johns Hopkins was accepted as a sport affiliate member for women's lacrosse beginning with the 2016-17 academic year.

In the fall of 2013, the Big Ten opened a new conference headquarters and meeting center in Rosemont, Ill. The newly constructed building is located 10 minutes from 0'Hare Airport and has been designed to fully service the needs of more than 350 meetings annually for Big Ten and CIC related committees and coaches groups. The new headquarters also features an interactive digital museum - the Big Ten Experience - which opened to the public on June 7, 2014, and brings the conference's storied academic and athletic history to life. For more information on the Big Ten Experience, go to bigten.org.

In June 2014, the Big Ten opened a second office in New York City, featuring both office and meeting space in Midtown Manhattan. Three Big Ten staff members are based in the New York City office to provide expanded coverage and service, while other conference and institutional administrators utilize the space as necessary when conducting business on the East Coast. The Big Ten and its member institutions also have access to satellite office space in Washington, D.C.

Delany and his staff work to meet the educational needs of students competing in intercollegiate athletics to allow them to excel in all areas of their lives. The conference office manages 28 different championships and tournaments, offers legislative and compliance services, oversees the production and distribution of nearly 1,400 events annually, provides staff services to coaching and administrative personnel and services media and fans interest for information on the Big Ten Conference.

More than 120 years after its inception, the Big Ten remains a national leader in intercollegiate athletics on and off the field. Big Ten programs have combined to win more than 450 team and 1,800 individual national championships, consistently taking home individual honors for athletic and academic accomplishments and fulfilling the Big Ten's mission of academic achievement and athletic success.

2014 SEASON REVIEW CARROO TURNS IN RECORD SEASON

BIG

WELCOME TO THE BIG TEN

The Scarlet Knights made their entry to the Big Ten Conference a successful campaign going 8-5 overall, including conference wins against Michigan, Indiana and Maryland. It marked the third time in the last four seasons that RU reached eight wins in a season.

SCARLET KNIGHTS CAPTURE BOWL TITLE

Rutgers earned its ninth bowl appearance in the past 10 seasons with a trip to the Quick Lane Bowl in Detroit. The 40-21 victory over North Carolina gave the Scarlet Knights their sixth bowl championship, moving the program to 6-4 alltime in postseason play.

FLOOD COMPLETES YEAR THREE

In the program's 145-year history, head coach Kyle Flood became the first to secure 23 wins in his first three seasons. Rutgers' three-straight bowl appearances were also a first for a Scarlet Knights head coach. He is the only coach in RU history to lead a team to a bowl game and conference championship in their first season.

Leonte Carroo, one of the surest hands in college football, enjoyed a standout junior season in 2014. Carroo led the Scarlet Knights in every receiving category, including receptions (55), receiving yards (1,086) and touchdowns (10). His 19.7 yards per catch average also led the nation (minimum 51 receptions).

TURAY MAKES MARK AS FRESHMAN

Kemoko Turay had a breakout rookie campaign both on defense and special teams. He led the team and ranked tied for seventh in the Big Ten with 7.5 sacks, was third with 8.5 tackles-for-loss and tied the nation's lead with three blocked kicks. For his efforts, Turay was named to the Football Writers Association of America Freshman All-America Team, Scout Freshman All-America Second Team and earned a spot on the BTN All-Freshman Team. He was also an honorable mention All-Big Ten selection by the media.

LONGA CLIMBING THE DEFENSIVE CHARTS

Steve Longa, a two-year starter at linebacker, eclipsed the 200 career tackle mark with 11 stops against then-No. 10 Michigan State. His 225 career tackles are 71 shy of 10th place on the Rutgers all-time list. He has posted 100 or more tackles in each of his first two seasons.

GRANT POWERS RETURN GAME

Janarion Grant was the Scarlet Knights' top returner in 2014, ranking fourth nationally and leading the Big Ten Conference in combined returns (kickoff/punt) with 955 yards. He was 26th in the country and fourth in the conference in kickoff returns, averaging 25.3 yards per return. Grant posted a pair of 71-yard kickoff returns in wins against Indiana (11/15) and at Maryland (11/29).

ALL-BIG TEN HONORS

The Big Ten Conference announced the 2014 All-Big Ten Teams as voted on by the league's head coaches along with conference media members. The media All-Big Ten Team featured Rutgers junior wide receiver Leonte Carroo as he earned All-Big Ten First Team honors while junior defensive tackle Darius Hamilton, redshirt freshman defensive end Kemoko Turay and senior offensive guard Kaleb Johnson earned honorable mention all-conference accolades from the conference media. Carroo and Johnson were named honorable mention All-Big Ten by the league's head coaches. Carroo put together an all-conference caliber season. The New Jersey native ranked 23rd nationally and second in the Big Ten in receiving yards (1,086) and 19th nationally and third in the Big Ten in receiving touchdowns (10). Carroo tied the Rutgers single-season record with 10 touchdown receptions. He led the nation in yards per reception (19.7) for players with at least 51 receptions. Carroo is already second in Rutgers history with 19 receiving touchdowns in just 23 career games at wide receiver. He is the only player in 145 years of Rutgers football to record three touchdown receptions in a game An every-down lineman in 2014, Hamilton started all 13 games at defensive tackle for Rutgers. The junior led the defense with 11.5 tackles-for-loss, including a career-best six sacks which ranked tied for 14th in the Big Ten. Overall, he had 45 tackles from the interior of the defensive line with a career-high-tying eight stops in the win at Maryland. Hamilton had a key tackle for no gain on a late third down against the Terrapins to help lead a defensive stop that sealed the victory.

Turay emerged as a pass rushing specialist in his redshirt freshman season for the Scarlet Knights. He picked up a team-high 7.5 sacks during the regular season, ranking tied for eigth among Big Ten players and fourth among freshmen nationally. The defensive end started off with two sacks in the season-opening win at Washington State on his way to 26 tackles overall in 12 games. Turay also established himself on special teams with three blocked kicks to tie the nation's lead, including one on a late field goal attempt by Michigan to prevent a potential go-ahead score.

Johnson earned postseason honors for the fourth consecutive season on the offensive line. Following multiple Freshman All-America honors, he was named second team all-conference in both the Big East and the American as a sophomore and junior, respectively. In 2014, Johnson started every game at left guard to extend his starting streak to 50, the most by an offensive lineman in program history. The Jacksonville, Fla., native was part of a group that paved the way for four different 200-yard team rushing games and allowed just two sacks in the final four games of the regular season.

AIKEN BECOMES FIRST BIG TEN PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Senior free safety Johnathan Aiken became the first player in Rutgers history to be named Big Ten Defensive Player of the Week for his efforts in the win over Washington State. The Big Ten named Aiken the defensive player of the week on Sept. 1 after totaling seven tackles and being in the center of two critical plays in the fourth quarter against the Cougars. Aiken first forced a Washington State fumble on a punt return with iust seven minutes remaining as Rutgers trailed 38-34. Teammate Anthony Cioffi recovered the fumble as it setup the game-winning touchdown for the Scarlet Knights. On 4th-and-13 from the WSU 38 with 59 seconds remaining in the game, Aiken broke up a pass intended for River Cracraft to seal the come-from-behind 41-38 victory.

NOVA & TURAY EARN BIG TEN HONORS

Gary Nova and defensive end Kemoko Turay each earned conference player of the week honors. Nova was the first Big Ten Offensive Player of the Week in school history after his 404-yard performance in the win over Michigan. Turay claimed Rutgers' first Big Ten Special Teams Player of the Week honor as he blocked a Michigan field goal late in the fourth quarter to preserve the 26-24 victory.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

Robert Barchi is the 20th president of Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, a 65,000-student comprehensive research institution marking its 250th anniversary in 2016.

President Barchi has overseen formation of Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences, a major division of the university established in 2013 when, through restructuring legislation signed by Governor Chris Christie, most units of the former University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey were integrated into Rutgers. Soon after arriving at Rutgers in 2012, President Barchi led development of an ambitious universitywide strategic plan, the first at Rutgers in nearly 20 years, and a corresponding physical master plan. He guided Rutgers' entry into the Big Ten Athletic Conference, a group of similarly sized leading research institutions, and the conference's academic consortium, the Committee on Institutional Cooperation.

Dr. Barchi has also overseen the launch or completion of many key capital projects across Rutgers, including the New Jersey Institute for Food, Nutrition and Health, an Honors College, new or expanded facilities for chemistry, life sciences, nursing, engineering, and pharmacy, and the first new academic facility built on the historic College Avenue Campus since the 1960s.

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY

From 2004 to 2012, Dr. Barchi served as president of Thomas Jefferson University in Philadelphia, nationally regarded as a top university dedicated to health sciences education and research. Prior to Jefferson, he was provost and chief academic officer of the University of Pennsylvania, an Ivy League institution founded in 1740.

Dr. Barchi was born in Philadelphia but spent his formative years not far from Rutgers in Westfield, N.J. He received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Georgetown University, and Ph.D. and M.D. degrees from the University of Pennsylvania. He completed specialty training at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania and holds board certification in neurology. Throughout his career. Dr. Barchi has been active as a teacher and as an NTH-funded researcher in the fields of neuroscience and neurology, and he has published extensively in his field. He was elected to the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences in recognition of his pioneering research on the structure and function of voltage-gated ion channels in nerve and muscle, and on the role these critical molecules can play in human disease.

In 1972, Dr. Barchi began his academic career as a faculty member at Penn. Within a decade, he rose to become the David Mahoney Professor of Neurological Sciences. Between 1983 and 1996, he served as director of the Mahoney Institute of Neurological Sciences—an interdisciplinary, universitywide entity that he expanded to become the focus for Penn's growth in neuroscience, encompassing the intellectual activities of more than 120 faculty members. Dr. Barchi founded the Department of Neuroscience at Penn and served as its first chair; he also served as chair of the Department of Neurology. He was named the Fairhill Professor in 2002, a position that he still holds in emeritus status.

ROBERT L. BARCHI

PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY

The University of Pennsylvania named Dr. Barchi as its provost and chief academic officer in 1999, and he served in this capacity until 2004. As provost, Dr. Barchi had responsibility for the university's 12 schools and their academic programs and budgets and Penn's intercollegiate athletics program, as well as for Penn's students and faculty. During his tenure, he worked with president Judith Rodin to reassert the primacy of the academic mission in the direction of the university.

As president of Thomas Jefferson University, Dr. Barchi oversaw a period of tremendous growth. The university established three new schools—including the Jefferson School of Pharmacy, which graduated its first class in May 2012, and the Jefferson School of Population Health, the only school in the nation to offer a master's degree in chronic care management. Overall student enrollment increased by 51 percent and annual degrees awarded rose by 54 percent.

Other accomplishments at Jefferson include $300 million in fundraising, double the previous eightyear total. Dr. Barchi also oversaw the transformation of Jefferson's urban environment into a vibrant university campus. A coordinated construction program, coupled with improved landscape design and signage, helped provide visitors and the Jefferson community a sense of place and connectedness to the compact urban campus in the heart of the city's historic district.

Dr. Barchi is married to Francis Harper Barchi, a member of the Rutgers School of Social Work faculty, Francis Barchi holds a Ph.D. in social welfare, a master's in bioethics, and a master's in nonprofit leadership from the University of Pennsylvania, as well as a bachelor's degree from Smith College. Her research focuses on the social and behavioral factors that influence women's health in southern Africa. She is also part of a team responsible for ethics training of health professionals in Botswana, Tanzania, and Guatemala.

The Barchis, who have four adult children and one dog, spend their leisure time at their home in coastal Maine. As an avocation, President Barchi is an expert in the history and mechanical development of clocks and watches.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

Julie Hermann enters her third year overseeing Rutgers Athletics during one of the most historic and dynamic times in the department's history, with Rutgers embarking on its second season in the Big Ten Conference.

Hermann came to Rutgers after serving more than 15 years as the Executive Senior Associate Athletic Director at the University of Louisville, helping that school build in excess of $250 million worth of facilities while elevating the Cardinals to national prominence in several sports.

Hermann's initiatives and improvements in just two years "On the Banks" have been far reaching and impactful. In addition to launching the corporate sponsor partnership with IMG College, she has spearheaded the restructuring of development, which is experiencing another record-setting year with regard to fundraising revenue. Since Hermann's arrival, nearly 4,000 additional donors have been added via seat gift initiatives, and the football season ticket holder total of 31,016 in 2014 was the highest in program history.

When the Scarlet Knights lined up versus Penn State in their Big Ten football opener last year, they did so before 53,774 fans, the largest crowd in High Point Solutions Stadium history.

Starting with this academic year, the R Care program – another Hermann initiative – becomes fully operational. R Care's mission is to provide comprehensive care and education to Rutgers student-athletes on and off the field, underscoring Hermann's oft-stated intention of offering a best-in-class experience for all Scarlet Knights student-athletes.

During Rutgers' first season in the Big Ten in 2014-15, 196 student-athletes earned academic all-Big Ten honors, with the football, women's lacrosse and women's golf programs receiving recognition from the NCAA for their multi-year APR scores. Nine Rutgers teams either set or tied program records for their APR scores last year, with 10 sports achieving a perfect score of 1,000 for 2013-14.

Hermann's attention to the studentathlete experience extends beyond their playing days as well, with the Rutgers Leadership Academy continuing its success of career placement for a third straight year. During the most recent graduating year, 82 percent of graduating studentathletes either secured full-time employment or were accepted into graduate school.

Facility upgrades and improvements have been at the forefront of Hermann's initiatives. This past June, Rutgers rolled out plans in collaboration with the University's 15-year master building blueprint for an extensive overhaul of the Hale Center as well as a state-of-the-art multipurpose training facility.

Other upgrades have already been implemented under her watch, from expanded concourses, restrooms and ribbon boards at HPSS to making game days at the RAC a fun sensory experience with new video displays, lighting and sound systems.

Men's basketball, women's basketball, field hockey, women's soccer, baseball, softball, men's and women's track & field and men's and women's golf have new or remodeled office suites to increase productivity and aid in recruitment.

Rutgers Athletics is continually striving to increase its digital reach with its fans and supporters under Hermann's leadership. She has expanded news content on Scarlet-Knights.com and implemented a Creative Services Department to support the in-game experience and increase content building for BTN. In addition, she periodically updates Rutgers' most valued supporters with Scarlet Knights Insider, providing exclusive content to season ticket holders.

Hermann currently serves on the President's Cabinet at Rutgers and the Big Ten Compliance and Reinstatement Subcommittee.

At Louisville, Hermann served as the manager of 20 sports as the Louisville Cardinals built one of the nation's highest performing athletic departments, including the 2013 NCAA Men's Basketball National title, two NCAA Women's Basketball National Championship games (2009 & 2013), one NCAA Men's Soccer College Cup National Championship appearance (2010), two College World Series appearances (2007 & 2013) and two BCS bowl victories in the 2007 Orange Bowl and 2013 Sugar Bowl. The Cardinals won 64 Big East championships and titles since joining the league in 2005.

JULIE HERMANN

DIRECTOR OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

While supervising marketing, development, academics, sports performance, sports medicine, championships, student development (including the Derek Smith Leadership Academy) at Louisville, Hermann cultivated support for many of the state-of-the-art athletics venues that allowed the Cardinals to enjoy one of the nation's biggest and best building booms in college sports. The Cardinals built more than $250 million worth of facilities on campus as part of a strategic plan that allowed them to move into the Big Fast Conference in 2005 and eventually into the Atlantic Coast Conference.

The expansion of Papa John's Cardinal Football Stadium, the Jim Patterson Baseball Stadium, the Trager Center, the Lacrosse Stadium, the YUM! Practice Center, the Ralph Wright Natatorium, the Marshall Center, the G. Garvin Brown Rowing Center, the Mark and Cindy Lynn Soccer Stadium, the downtown KFC YUM! Arena and Cardinal Park which houses Ulmer Stadium (softball), Trager Stadium (field hockey) and the track and field complex - allowed the Cardinals to lead the nation in hosting conference and NCAA championship events, including six National Championships, while Hermann was there

Following a comprehensive national search, Hermann was selected from a pool of 63 candidates to be Director of Intercollegiate Athletics at Rutgers University. She is the first woman to serve in this capacity at Rutgers and became only the second woman to be an athletic director in the history of the Big Ten Conference.

A former all-conference performer for the renowned Nebraska volley-ball program, Hermann is a tireless advocate for the student-athlete experience. At Louisville, she designed and created a best in class student-athlete support system called L CARE, the model for the R Care program at Rutgers.

Hermann has served on numerous community boards, including the Frazier Rehab Institute, the Louisville Sports Commission, the Center for Women and Families, Women 4 Women and numerous NCAA and conference committees, including chairing the NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball Committee. Hermann just completed seven years of service on the board of NACWAA, serving a four-year term before being on the executive board and becoming president.

Hermann has been the recipient of several community service awards including her 2013 selection as a Lenny Lyles Award winner, the 2004 Ladies of Leadership award, the 2006 Women 4 Women Heart of the Community award, the 2008 Mary Kay Tachau Gender Equity award, a 2008 Woman of Distinction by the Center for Women and Families, a Today's Woman Honoree and the 2013 National Girls and Women in Sports honoree.

Prior to her time as an administrator at Louisville, Hermann was a college head coach and USA Volleyball assistant coach. Hermann supported the National Team as they prepared for the 2000 Sydney Olympic Games and helped coached a silver medal finish at the World University Games in Catania, Italy, in 1997.

Before joining USA Volleyball, Hermann was the head volleyball coach at the University of Tennessee from 1991-97. Under her watch the Lady Vols improved more than 150 spots in the NCAA RPI from No. 177 to No. 25, and in just her third season returned the program to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in more than a decade.

Following her All-Big Eight volleyball playing career at the University of Nebraska that included NCAA topfive finishes, Hermann served as an assistant coach at the University of Georgia and the University of Wording. Hermann's skills as a coach and a recruiter lifted those programs to unprecedented national rankings and advancement in the NCAA Tournament.

Hermann and her partner, Dr. Leslie Danehy, are the proud parents of son, Aidan.

"Old" Rutgers Stadium

Dedicated on November 5, 1938 at the Rutgers-Princeton game, the Stadium had its first game two weeks earlier as Rutgers hosted Hampden-Sydney. The season finale against Lafayette was the third game in the Stadium. Rutgers won all three contests and did not lose at the site until the sixth game in 1940, a 7-6 loss to Lafayette. Rutgers won the first 13 Stadium games, including seven straight in 1939.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

THE FIRST FOOTBALL GAME

Rutgers and Princeton played the first game of intercollegiate football on Nov. 6, 1869, on a plot of ground where the present-day Rutgers gymnasium now stands in New Brunswick, N.J. Rutgers won that first game, 6-4.

The game was played with two teams of 25 men each under rugby-like rules, but like modern football, it was "replete with surprise, strategy, prodigies of determination and physical prowess," to use the words of one of the Rutgers players.

At 3 p.m. on that memorable afternoon, the 50 competitors and about 100 spectators gathered on the field. To distinguish themselves from the bareheaded visitors, 50 Rutgers students, including players, donned scarlet-colored scarves which they converted into turbans.

Events leading up to the game were described by John W. Herbert, Rutgers '72, who was one of the players: "To appreciate this game to the fullest you must know something of its background," Herbert wrote in 1933. "The two colleges were, and still are, of course, about 20 miles apart. The rivalry between them was intense. For years each had striven for possession of an old Revolutionary cannon, making night forays and lugging it back and forth time and again. Not long before the first football game, the canny Princetonians had settled this competition in their own favor by ignominiously sinking the gun in several feet of concrete. In addition to this, I regret to report, Princeton had beaten Rutgers in baseball by the harrowing score of 40-2. Rutgers longed for a chance to square things."

A challenge for the game was issued by Rutgers. Three games were to be played that year. The first, played at New Brunswick, was won by Rutgers. Princeton won the second game, but cries of "over-emphasis" prevented the third game in football's first year when faculties of both institutions protested on the grounds that the games were interfering with student studies. An analytical account of the game appeared in the November, 1869 issue of the Targum, Rutgers' undergraduate newspaper.

"To describe the varying fortunes of the match, game by game, would be a waste of labor for every game was like the one before," wrote the student reporter. "There was the same headlong running, wild shouting, and frantic kicking.

"To sum up, Princeton had the most muscle, but didn't kick very well, and wanted organization. They evidently don't like to kick the ball on the ground. Our men, on the other hand, though comparatively weak, ran well, and kicked well throughout. But their great point was the organization, for which great praise is due to the captain. The right men were always in the right place."

One of the Princeton players, William Preston Lane, in 1933 contended in a newspaper interview that Rutgers "ran us Princeton men out of town. I never found out why they did that," he related. "But we don't ask any questions. When we saw them coming after us, we ran to the outskirts of New Brunswick and got into our carriages and wagons and went away as fast as we could."

Lane's contention is refuted in the Targum account. "After the match the players had an amicable "feed together," the paper reported. "At 8 o'clock our guests went home, in high good spirits, thirsting to beat us next time, if they can."

Regardless of what actually happened after the first game, football was here to stay. Rutgers got Columbia University started in the grid sport the following season and in a few years most of the colleges and universities in the East were represented on the gridiron.

HISTORY & TRADITION

THE BIRTHPLACE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Parts of the following article were written by John Bruns, former long-time sports writer for the Home News, and the Easton Times-Express.

When Rutgers defeated Princeton in the first intercollegiate football game ever played in 1869, the setting was quite different than it is today. The game was contested on a field along College Avenue in New Brunswick. There were not tens of thousands of cheering fans in a multi-million dollar stadium. There was no manicured grass field or electronic scoreboard. There was no elaborate athletic equipment or television cameras. But on that fall day in 1869, those students established a tradition of quality football programs, competitiveness and school spirit that continues at Rutgers, the birthplace of intercollegiate football.

Now entering its 146th season of competition in 2015, Rutgers has had many historical moments, outstanding athletes and memorable triumphs over the years.

However, those historic moments were difficult to predict during the early years when intercollegiate football scheduling was inconsistent. For example, Rutgers won six of 10 games in 1882, but played only one game in 1885. Similarly, the Scarlet Knights went 8-6 in 1891, but two years later played only four games. By the early 1900s, scheduling had become more consistent and football became more popular across the country.

The eight wins of 1891 were not matched until Rutgers went 8-1 in 1947 with one of the most successful teams of coach Harvey Harman in the Golden Era immediately following World War II. That team, quarterbacked by Frank Burns, who would later become Rutgers' most successful coach, lost its opener to Columbia and then swept through eight-straight opponents.

In 1913, coach George Foster Sanford began a tradition of success among Rutgers coaches in their inaugural year by leading his team to a 6-3 mark. He then flirted with two perfect seasons, improving the team to 7-1 in 1915 and 7-1-1 in 1917.

Those two seasons, which featured All-American Paul Robeson, were among Rutgers' best. The Scarlet Knights outscored opponents by an average of 44-3 in 1915 and 33-2 in 1917. Sanford, a member of Rutgers' Hall of Fame, also helped to introduce Rutgers to the New York metropolitan area, playing games at the Polo Grounds against teams like Notre Dame, Nebraska, Louisiana State and West Virginia. A few years later, in 1924, two-time All-America end and fullback Homer Hazel helped coach John Wallace continue the tradition of first-year coaching success, as Rutgers posted a 7-1-1 mark.

Harvey Harman also had a successful first season, going 7-1 in 1938, the year Rutgers dedicated the original Rutgers Stadium. Rutgers won the dedication game, 20-18, over Princeton.

Harman, however, was replaced by former coach Harry Rockafeller during World War II. His tenure included an 8-1 season in 1947 when Rutgers, dominated by WWII veterans, registered a combined record of 27-7 from 1945-48.

When John Steigman coached Rutgers from 1956-59, he brought back the single-wing formation to the Scarlet Knight offense, and led Rutgers to an 8-1 mark in 1958. The only loss of that season, 13-12 to the Quantico Marines, came when All-American tailback Billy Austin had to miss a game due to a broken hand.

Another first-year coach got off to an impressive start when John Bateman went 8-1 in 1960. That campaign was followed by Rutgers' first undefeated season in 1961, when the team went 9-0, capping the season with a fourth quarter, 25-point comeback win over Columbia. That team included All-American center Alex Kroll, and was ranked 15th nationally. In his 11 seasons, Bateman led Rutgers to 73 wins in 124 games.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

In 1973, Frank Burns took the reins of Rutgers football and became the most successful Rutgers coach ever by building teams recognized for fundamentals and defense. Burns himself was also known as a fierce linebacker and won the Most Valuable Player Award in the 1949 College All-Star game, when he made 17 tackles against the New York Giants. The Burns' defenses were led by linebackers Ed Steward, Jim Hughes, Jim Dumont and defensive end Nate Toran. Burns' first team went 6-5, while running back "JJ" Jennings rushed for 1,353 yerds (third in Rutgers history) and 21 touchdowns (second).

Over the next five seasons, Burns' teams won at least seven games each season, including a five-season stretch from 1975-79 when Rutgers' winning percentage was .803 with a record of 45-11. The jewel in the crown of Burns' tenure as Rutgers' coach was the 1976 season, when the team was perfect at 11-0, establishing the best season ever at Rutgers. During Burns' 11 seasons at Rutgers, the Scarlet Knights won nearly two-thirds of their games (78-44). He also took Rutgers to its first bowl appearance – the Garden State Bowl – at Giants Stadium against Arizona State in 1978.

Doubtless, the biggest win of the Burns era was the 13-7 upset of Tennessee on November 3, 1979 in Knoxville. Burns called it "the greatest of my coaching career."

The following year, 1980, Rutgers had one of its great "near-misses" of its long history when the Scarlet bowed, 17-13, to a highly-favored Alabama team coached by Bear Bryant at Giants Stadium. The gracious Bryant said, "We didn't beat Rutgers. All I can say is we won."

In 1984 when Dick Anderson was named head coach, a renewed commitment to football at Rutgers was backed by a $3 million state-funded package. Those funds helped finance the artificial surface practice fields, the practice "Bubble" and the Hale Center, which includes locker rooms, offices, a weight-training area and medical facilities for the football team.

Anderson won seven of 10 games in his inaugural season. Other highlights of his years at Rutgers include upset wins over such nationally-ranked teams as Penn State and Michigan State, and a nationally-televised victory over Northwestern in the program's 1,000th game. Anderson's teams produced some of the most exciting players in Rutgers history, including record-breaking passer Scott Erney, career tackles leader Tyronne Stowe (533 from 1983-86) and foot-ball/baseball star Eric Young. Anderson's last game at Rutgers, although a loss to Pittsburgh, was a memorable one. It was the 1989 Emerald Isle Classic in Dublin, Ireland, the first time a Rutgers team played overseas.

Doug Graber became the Scarlet Knights' 23rd coach in 1990 and placed an emphasis on recruiting the best talent in the state of New Jersey. His first recruiting class included three first-team all-state selections and two second-team all-state selections among the 12 recruits from New Jersey.

Another major boost for Rutgers came in 1991 when Rutgers joined the Big East Conference and won its first game over Boston College, 20-13. The team went 13-9 in its first two years in the league, including a 4-2 mark in 1992.

The 1994 season celebrated not only the 125 years of college football, but also the return of the newly-renovated and expanded Rutgers Stadium. The return was a welcomed one. Rutgers teams have been at their best at the stadium, compiling a 235-115-4 (.669) record there since 1938. A new stadium has been quite a different setting than that of the first college football game played 130 years ago.

After a less than stellar run through the mid-1990s under 1998 Big East Coach of the Year Terry Shea, the Scarlet Knights opted to take the program in a different direction for the 2001 season. On December 1, 2000, Director of Athletics Bob Mulcahy introduced the newest coach in the storied history of Rutgers football - Greg Schiano.

Schiano's first three recruiting classes are considered some of the best in Rutgers history. In 2003, the team compiled a 5-7 record, upsetting Syracuse, 24-7, in the season finale. In 2004, before the largest crowd ever at the time at Rutgers Stadium (42, 612), the Scarlet Knights defeated Michigan State, 19-14.

HISTORY & TRADITION

In 2005, Schiano coached Rutgers to its best record in over a decade, 7-5, and its first bowl bid since 1978. In a Wild West shootout staged at Phoenix's Chase Field, Rutgers fell just short, losing to Arizona State, 45-40, at the Insight Bowl Dec. 27.

In 2006, Schiano was named the National Coach of the Year and Big East Coach of the Year, as the Scarlet Knights earned their first national top-10 ranking in 2006 and won 11 games for the second time in school history. The campaign included a thrilling win 28-25 over No. 3/4 Louisville in front of a Thursday night national audience on ESPN. Rutgers ended the season with a ranking of No. 12 in the national polls.

The success Rutgers achieved on the field was something Schiano envisioned from the first day he became the leader of the Scarlet Knights. At his introductory press conference, Schiano stated, "We're going to win at Rutgers and we're going to do it the right way." The 2006 season was complete with a convincing 37-10 victory over Kansas State in the Texas Bowl, the first bowl championship in school history. In addition, Brian Leonard was the recipient of the Draddy Trophy, known as the Academic Heisman, in 2006.

The program won eight more games in 2007, concluding with a dominate 52-30 victory over Ball State at the International Bowl in Toronto. Ray Rice ran for a school-record 280 rushing yards on the day to bring his career total to 4,926, a program high. An All-America pick and Heisman Trophy candidate, the running back also holds the Scarlet Knight standards for attempts (910), touchdowns (49) and 100-yard games (25).

While the results on the field did not favor Rutgers in 2010, the world was introduced to Eric LeGrand. The junior defensive tackle suffered a spinal cord injury at MetLife Stadium Oct. 16 against Army, but he did not let the condition bring him down. LeGrand has become a public figure and has raised countless dollars towards spinal cord research. He became the first Scarlet Knight in the 144 years of the football program to have his number retired during halftime of the Sept. 14, 2013 game against Eastern Michigan.

Rutgers returned to a bowl game in 2011 with a trip to the New Era Pinstripe Bowl. It was the sixth bowl trip in seven years under Schiano, as RU beat Iowa State at Yankee Stadium. Wide receiver Mohamed Sanu set the school record with 115 receptions on the season and was drafted in the third round of the NFL Draft by the Cincinnati Bengals.

Following the season, Schiano took the head coaching job with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers to end an 11-year tenure. Kyle Flood, who joined the program in 2005, was promoted from the staff to the lead position several days later.

Flood made an immediate impact on the Rutgers program with a successful first season, as he led the school to its first Big East Championship in 2012, ending with a 9-4 record and 5-2 in the league. Flood was named the Big East Coach of the Year, an honor he shared with Louisville's Charlie Strong, Flood's nine regular season victories were the most by any firstyear coach in Rutgers history, as eight players garnered All-Big East honors. Khaseem Greene totaled 136 tackles to earn Big East Defensive Player of the Year for the second consecutive season, in addition to All-America status. The defensive unit was among the best in school history, ranking fourth nationally in scoring defense, tied for ninth in turnovers gained and 10th in total defense.

The year culminated with a trip to the Russell Athletic Bowl in Orlando to face Virginia Tech. In the offseason, Rutgers had 12 players signed by NFL teams, with a school-record seven selected in the NFL Draft.

Rutgers came out of the gates in 2013 with a 4-1 start through September. Following a 52-51 loss in overtime at Fresno State, RU rattled off four straight wins. The winning streak was highlighted by a comeback win over Arkansas in the first visit by an SEC team to High Point Solutions Stadium. In its first American Athletic Conference game, Rutgers won in triple overtime at SMU. Other conference victories included a late fourth quarter win with the hurry-up offense versus Temple and a postseason-clinching performance on Senior Night against USF. Running back Paul James and tight end Tyler Kroft earned first-team all-conference, while center Betim Bujari and kick returner Janarion Grant made second team.

The 2013 New Era Pinstripe Bowl was the eighth bowl trip in nine years for Rutgers. The Scarlet Knights took on a ranked Notre Dame team inside a soldout Yankee Stadium.

On July 1, 2014, Rutgers officially joined the Big Ten Conference to usher in a new era in its deep and storied history.

Support for the program reached new levels for the Big Ten opener, as a stadium-record 53,774 fans packed High Point Solutions Stadium for a game against Penn State. The Scarlet Knights won their first Big Ten game Oct. 4 over Michigan, with defensive end Kemoko Turay leaping to block a potential go-ahead field goal to seal the win and set off a storming of the field. The first road win in conference play came at Maryland after RU erased a 35-10 deficit to win 41-38 in the biggest comeback in school history. Senior quarterback Gary Nova threw for 347 yards on a career-best 28 completions versus the Terrapins and ended his career as the all-time touchdown passing leader (73).

The first year in the Big Ten would be capped off with a convincing 40-21 win over North Carolina in the Quick Lane Bowl, hosted by the Detroit Lions. The Scarlet Knights went 8-5 and earned the Lambert-Meadowlands Trophy, emblematic of the top team in the East in the Bowl Subdivision.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

PAUL ROBESON

Paul Robeson played four years for the famous coach, G. Foster Sanford. Rutgers had a 22-6-3 record in that time. In 31 games, Rutgers scored 941 points to opponents' 191. Robeson was a powerful contributor to that record.... Robeson was a two-time All-America end. Frank Menke named him All-America in 1917 and 1918. Walter Camp picked him in 1918. (Camp did not name an All-America team in 1917.) Following college, Robeson played three years as a pro - 1920 with Hammond, 1921 with Akron and 1922 with Milwaukee - in the American Professional Football League. • He obtained his law degree in 1923. At Rutgers, Robeson was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and was valedictorian of the class of 1919. He won the college gratorical contest four straight years and gave the commencement address at graduation. Robeson won 12 letters in four sports - four in football, three each in basketball and baseball, and two in track. He stood 6-3 in height and his weight was listed at 191 in early years, at 215 his senior season. This man of many talents became an actor, singer and lecturer. He was on Broadway and in the movies. His rich basso made his signature song "Ol' Man River" a classic. He starred in plays, such as "The Emporer Jones", "Othello", "Showboat", as well as many others, in the U.S., Europe and Africa. In 1925 he made a recording that sold 55,000 copies in four months. In 1972 he received the Whitney Young Memorial Award. Ebony Magazine called him "one of the 10 most important black men in American history." Paul Robeson was born April 9, 1898, in Princeton, N.J. His father, Rev. William Robeson, had escaped slavery in 1860 in North Carolina at age 15. His mother, Maria Bustill, was a teacher. When Paul was a high school senior, he won the statewide academic test and received a scholarship to Rutgers. In 1915 he was the third black to enter Rutgers and the first to play football. He died January 23, 1976. After his tenure at Rutgers, he became an accomplished actor, singer and lecturer, and was recently commemorated on a US postal stamp.

ALEX KROLL

Alex Kroll, a consensus All-American center on Rutgers' first undefeated football team in 1961, is the Scarlet Knights' sixth inductee into the College Football Hall of Fame, as a part of the Class of 1997. • Kroll, a 6-2, 228-pound center and linebacker, was a major force in Rutgers compiling a 17-1 record in his two years of play "On the Banks." In 1960, the Knights, under coach John Bateman, were 8-1 and followed up with the school's first undefeated campaign, going 9-0 in 1961. Team captain of the lauded 1961 squad, Kroll was a two-time first-team All-ECAC choice and won first-team All-America honors from the Associated Press, United Press International, Newspaper Enterprise Association, Look, and the American Football Coaches Association, Known as a "coach on the field," he was credited with making the guarterback sneak an offensive weapon as Rutgers scored seven TDs on that play in 1961 with Kroll clearing the way into the endzone for the signal-caller. • He was also a firstteam All-East choice by the AP in 1961 and played in the North-South game and the Senior Bowl. In 1960, he was an honorable mention All-American. Following his senior season, he was a second-round draft pick of the New York Titans, playing for one season in 1962. • Kroll earned a BA in English Literature in 1962. and was a Henry Rutgers Scholar with a perfect grade point average in his major. He received a National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Post-Graduate Scholarship in 1961. In 1986, he was awarded the Silver Anniversary Award from the National Collegiate Athletic Association for his collegiate achievements. • Immediately following his last game with the Titans, he joined the workforce at Young & Rubicam, the world's largest independent advertising agency, as a copywriter. After a succession of writing and supervisory jobs in the creative department, he was named executive vice president and worldwide creative director in 1970. He was named president and chief operating officer in 1982 and, four years later, Kroll became chairman of Young & Rubicam. He is retired but still serves as Chairman Emeritus of Young & Rubicam.

HISTORY & TRADITION

HARVEY HARMAN

Few men loved the game with the fervor of Harvey Harman, a huge man with a grand smile and a fierce dedication to the sport. A former president of the American Football Coaches Association, Harman received that group's Amos Alonzo Stagg Award, symbolic of outstanding service to the profession. It was not surprising that Harman achieved such acclaim, for he learned his football lessons from two of the game's mentors - Glenn "Pop" Warner and Jock Sutherland - while at Pittsburgh. Harman was a starting tackle for the Panthers before taking his first coaching assignment at Haverford. From there he moved on to Sewanee (the University of the South), Pennsylvania and Rutgers. It was at Rutgers that he had his greatest success, directing the Scarlet Knights to a 26–7-1 record before interrupting his career to serve in the U.S. Navy during World War II. Harman returned to Rutgers after the war and led the Scarlet Knights for another 10 seasons before accepting a position as Executive Director of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, Inc. In that capacity, Harman became known as the goodwill ambassador for football, continuing to serve the game until his death in 1969. His career record lists a slate of 140-104-7.

HOMER HAZEL

He parted his dark hair down the middle, in the fashion of the day, and his deep-set eyes glowed with a competitive fire. Homer Hazel, Rutgers' first Hall of Famer, was, without doubt, the most versatile player the Scarlet ever produced. • A natural athlete, Hazel excelled in various sports and was most successful as a track and field star. His speed and quickness served him well, for he once recovered his own kickoff in the enemy end zone for a touchdown. • Homer led Rutgers to identical 7-1-1 records in his final two seasons. earning All-America laurels in each. He was an end in 1923, when the only Scarlet loss was to West Virginia (27-7). He had Rutgers on the way to an unbeaten finish in 1924 - this time as a hard-hitting fullback - when Bucknell untracked the Scarlet in the final game of the season, 12-7. During the 1924 campaign, Homer Hazel established school records for most points after a touchdown and longest completed pass. • He could do it all. Carrying 226 pounds over a 5-foot-11 frame, Homer lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track at Rutgers. He later served as Athletic Director, football and basketball coach at the University of Mississippi for more than five years. He was a golf pro for four years, and a labor relations manager for more than 20 years. Hazel won his first letter in football at Rutgers in 1916. He left school because of a lack of funds. Hazel worked at various jobs and, at age 28, played football again at Rutgers. Walter Camp named him All-America end in 1923, All-America fullback in 1924. Hazel was born June 2, 1895, and died February 3, 1968.

GEORGE LITTLE

A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan, George Little opened his coaching career at the University of Cincinnati and produced a two-year record of 10-8-0 before moving up the road to Oxford, Ohio, home of the Miami Redskins, in 1916. There, Little brought the Redskins their first Conference Championship and a 7-0-1 mark. • After service in World War I, Little returned to Miami and directed the Red and White to yet another league crown and a three-year post-war record of 20-3-1. He also coached the Miami basketball and track teams, claiming a conference crown in the latter sport. • The 1922 and 1923 seasons found Little at Michigan under head coach Fielding Yost, the man he replaced in 1924. That year, Little's Wolverines were 6-2. The next season, Little was in Wisconsin as the new Athletic Director and head coach of the Badgers, and he led his charges to a two-year mark of 11-3-2. His teams displayed imagination and strength on offense, a unique ruggedness on defense. Little wound up his collegiate career as the Athletic Director at Rutgers, and hen served as executive secretary of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

GEORGE FOSTER SANFORD

At the entrance to Rutgers Stadium, inscribed upon a bronze plaque, is a tribute to George Sanford. It was financed and installed by his players, the men "...he inspired to deeds beyond themselves." Undoubtedly, Sanford was an inspirational leader of men, a gentleman who excelled as both player and coach. Sanford played center on the 1891 and 1892 Yale teams which held each of of their 26 opponents scoreless. Though he was never chosen to an All-America team, a 1927 poll named him the all-time Yale center. Sanford began his coaching career at Columbia (1899-1801), called in to revive the football program which had been abandoned after the 1891 campaign. His 1899 team defeated Yale for the first time ever, and it was at Columbia that Sanford developed the famous "Flying Hurdle Play" which saw Harold Weekes catapulted over the line of scrimmage. Moving to Rutgers (1913-23), Sanford had marked success as his club rolled to a 56-32-5 record. He was hailed as a "miracle worker" in 1917, after his Rutgers team beat the heavily-favored Newport Naval Reserve All-Stars, 14-0. Between his teams at Columbia and Rutgers, Sanford devoted his energy toward a successful insurance brokerage business.

HISTORY & TRADITION

RUTGERS BOWL HISTORY

1978 GARDEN STATE BOWL

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. - In its first postseason action in program history, Rutgers faced Arizona State at Giants Stadium in the inaugural Garden State Bowl in 1978. The Scarlet Knights pulled ahead in the first half on a touchdown by David Dorn and field goal from Kennan Startzell to take a 10-0 lead. However, the Sun Devils closed the gap just before the end of the first half when Mark Malone found Bob Weathers in the end zone. In the third quarter, Arizona State claimed the lead with two Malone touchdown passes and in the final quarter added another score with a rushing TD to make the score 28-10. Ted Blackwell brought the Scarlet Knights to within 10 points with his five-yard rushing touchdown and successful two-point conversion. Rutgers had a final chance to take over the game when an offside kick came bouncing its way, but an offside flag on the kickoff erased the Scarlet Knights good fortune. Arizona State tacked on two touchdowns to secure the 34-18 victory.

2005 INSIGHT BOWL

PHDENIX - Rutgers and Arizona State met for the second time in a bowl game, this time at Phoenix's Chase Field. The Scarlet Knights came up just short in the contest, losing 45-40 to the Sun Devils. RU scored the game's first touchdown on a pass from Ryan Hart to Clark Harris, but ASU quickly responded with a TD of its own, evening the game at 7-7. Both teams traded a number of scores, but back-to-back touchdowns in the fourth quarter helped ASU to a 45-33 lead and the eventual victory. Rutgers engineered a 63-yard TD drive in the final 51 seconds, but it was not enough as the Sun Devils held on for the 45-40 win.

2006 TEXAS BOWL

HOUSTON - Rutgers' most memorable season ended with the program's biggest milestone - the first bowl victory in the history of Scarlet Knight football. Ray Rice rushed for 170 yards and a touchdown, while Tim Brown hauled in two TD passes as the 16th-ranked Scarlet Knights defeated Kansas State 37-10. Rice eventually went on to be named the Texas Bowl's Most Valuable Player. In the first quarter, Mike Teel hit Brown in the end zone on a 14-yard touchdown pass and the pair later connected, this time with a 49-yard strike to give Rutgers a 14-0 lead. Jeremy Ito sent a 37-yard field goal through the uprights with less than a minute remaining in the first half to take a 17-10 lead at halftime. In the opening minute of the third quarter, Rutgers extended its lead on an interception returned for a touchdown by Quintero Frierson. The Scarlet Knights scored the final 23 points of the game as Rice added a 46-yard touchdown run and Ito converted a pair of field goals to give RU the 37-10 victory.

2008 INTERNATIONAL BOWL

TORONTO - In its third-consecutive bowl game, Rutgers pulled off another program milestone with its second-straight postseason victory as the Scarlet Knights defeated Ball State, 52-30. Ray Rice had one of the finest individual outings in college football history, rushing for a career-high 280 yards and four touchdowns en route to being named the International Bowl's Most Valuable Player, his second-consecutive MVP honor in a bowl game. Rice's 280 yards were the third-most rushing yards in NCAA Bowl history. He entered the game with 1,732 yards on the ground and ended his season with 2,012 yards rushing to become the 13th player in NCAA history to amass more than 2,000 yards. The rushing total also set a BIG EAST and school single-season record. The 52 points scored were the most in Rutgers' bowl history. Including both individual and team marks, RU set a total of nine bowl records at the International Bowl.

2008 PAPAJOHNS.COM BOWL

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Fitting that Rutgers would end the 2008 season with a come-frombehind win. After winning only one of their first six games, Mike Teel and the Scarlet Knights erased an 11-point second half deficit to defeat North Carolina State 29-23 in the Papajohns.com Bowl. Leading the comeback — as he did all season — was Teel, who passed for 319 yards and two touchdowns, including a 42-yard scoring toss to Kenny Britt to give the Scarlet Knights (8 -5) the lead for good in the fourth quarter. Teel's pass to Britt with 8:30 to play proved to be the winning touchdown. Britt, a third-team All-

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

American, made a juggling catch as he crossed the goal line and finished with six catches for 119 yards. Teel, a senior, was the game's most valuable player. He ended his career on a seven-game winning streak after being booed at home when he was struggling earlier in the season. NC State (6-7) held a 17-6 halftime edge, led by quarterback Russell Wilson who was 11-for-23 for 186 yards and a score. But Wilson left the game with a strained knee late in the first half and did not return. The Scarlet Knights scored 10 consecutive points in the third quarter on a 31-yard field goal by San San Te and an 11-yard pass from Teel to Tiquan Underwood. Rutgers took a 19-17 lead with 13:31 to play on a 28-yard field by Te after a 10-play, 70-yard drive. The Wolfpack came right back as reserve quarterback Daniel Evans drove them 64 yards in eight plays and hit Anthony Hill with a 16-yard touchdown pass to give NC State a 23-19 lead. But it was only two plays later when Teel hit Britt for the go-ahead score.

2009 ST. PETERSBURG BOWL

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. - Rutgers (9-4) capped off its fifth-straight bowl appearance with its fourth-consecutive bowl victory, defeating Central Florida 45-24 in the 2009 St. Petersburg Bowl on Saturday, Dec. 19 at Tropicana Field. The Scarlet Knights showed a great display of balance in all three phases of the game, recording touchdowns on offensive, defensive and special teams. RU ended the night with two rushing touchdowns, two passing touchdowns, one interception and one kickoff returned for scores. Rutgers gained 380 yards of total offense behind a career passing day from freshman quarterback Tom Savage who completed 14-of-27 passes for 294 yards and two touchdowns. Fellow true freshman Mohamed Sanu also enjoyed a career-best evening as he accounted for three of RU's five touchdowns. Sanu had 13 carries for 41 yards and a pair of touchdowns, in addition to catching four passes for 97 yards and a TD. For his performance Sanu was awarded the Most Outstanding Player trophy, joining past bowl honorees Ray Rice (2006 Texas Bowl, 2008 International Bowl) and Mike Teel (2008 PapaJohns.com Bowl).

BRONX, N.Y. – Chas Dodd hit Brandon Coleman for an 86-yard touchdown pass late in the fourth quarter and Jawan Jamison ran for two scores to lead Rutgers over Iowa State 27-13 in the New Era Pinstripe Bowl on Dec. 30, 2011. The Scarlet Knights (9-4) ran their bowl winning streak to five and improved to 2-0 this season at Yankee Stadium, where they beat Army earlier in the season. Rutgers, which played in one bowl game before 2005, is 5-1 in the postseason since that season. The Cyclones (6-7) finished the season on a three-game losing streak, their last win coming on Nov. 18 in Ames, Iowa, when they pulled off the biggest upset of the season against Oklahoma State. In this game, Steele Jantz relieved Barnett in the second quarter and helped pull the Cyclones within 20-13 in the fourth on Jeff Woody's 20-yard touchdown run with 10:00 left. After an exchange of punts left Rutgers deep in its own end, Dodd went deep to Coleman. The 6-foot-6 redshirt freshman went over 5-7 cornerback Jeremy Reeves, then outran the corner to the end zone to make it 27-13 with 5:47 left. It was Coleman's only catch, but it turned out to be the play of the game. Jamison, another redshirt freshman giving Rutgers fans hope for more bowls to come, finished with 134 yards on 27 carries.

2012 RUSSELL ATHLETIC BOWL

ORLANDO - Rutgers saw its 2012 season come to an end with a 13-10 overtime loss to Virginia Tech in the Russell Athletic Bowl in Orlando on Dec. 28, 2012. The loss ended the Scarlet Knights' bowl win streak at five, which had previously been the longest active streak in the nation. In the 15th meeting between the two squads, Rutgers held a 10-0 lead heading into the fourth quarter. The Scarlet Knights scored first on a ball that was snapped over Virginia Tech QB Logan Thomas and recovered in the end zone by Rutgers LB Khaseem Greene on the opening drive. An RU field goal by Nick Borgese late in the opening quarter would be the final points until the last stanza. In the fourth, the Hokies were able to tie it up. In the first overtime possession, the Hokies settled for a 22-yard field goal to take a 13-10 lead. Rutgers had a possession to answer, but after going three-and-out, Borgese missed wide-right on a 42-yard field goal attempt to end the game. Rutgers finished the year 9-4 and earned a share of the school's first BIG EAST Championship.

HISTORY & TRADITION

BRONX, NX. - A 47-yard field goal by Kyle Federico brought Rutgers within three with less than nine minutes remaining, but 10 unanswered points by Notre Dame iced the contest, as the Irish defeated the Scarlet Knights, 29-16, in the 2013 Pinstripe Bowl at Yankee Stadium. It was the eighth bowl trip in nine seasons for Rutgers. A Pinstripe Bowl record crowd of 47,122 watched a back-and-forth affair for the majority of the contest, with neither team leading by more than one possession until late in the fourth quarter. Frandon Coleman led RU in receiving with two catches for 65 yards and a touchdown, while Paul James logged 48 yards on 10 rushing attempts. Coleman's touchdown late in the first quarter was the 20th of his career, tying him for the school record. Federico converted all three of his field goal attempts.

2014 QUICK LANE BOWL

DETROIT - In control from the outset, Rutgers thoroughly dominated North Carolina, 40-21, in the Quick Lane Bowl at Ford Field, turning in one of its stronger performances of the year to finish the 2014 campaign at 8-5. Quarterback Gary Nova threw two touchdown passes, freshmen running backs Josh Hicks and Robert Martin proved to be a dynamic 1-2 punch in the running game, with each topping 100 yards rushing, and the Scarlet Knights' defense quieted the most productive offense in North Carolina history for all but the final 6:45 of the game. The Scarlet Knights jumped out to a 23-0 lead at halftime, sparked by a 34-yard touchdown pass from Nova to Andre Patton on the first drive of the game. Hicks and Martin both added rushing scores to pad the lead, with Kyle Federico connecting from 19 yards away with 11 seconds left in the second quarter. Nova, who finished 9-of-20 for 184 yards, pushed the Scarlet Knights' 23-0 halftime lead to 30-7 with his second touchdown pass - this one a 34-yard strike to Andrew Turzilli - with 7:33 left in the third quarter. The advantage grew to 37-7 on Martin's 28-yard touchdown run with 14:11 to play. Federico tacked on a 31-yard field goal with 10:04 remaining to make it 40-7. Martin and Hicks joined Ray Rice (three times) and Jawan Jamison as the only Rutgers backs to rush for 100 yards in a bowl game. Martin (19 carries for 100 yards and two touchdowns) and Hicks (202 yards and one touchdown on 19 carries) also joined Rice as the only true freshmen to reach 100 in a bowl for the Scarlet Knights. Hicks was named MVP of the game for his efforts. The rushing totals for both Martin and Hicks were career highs, with Rutgers' 340 rushing yards overall the most in program history in a bowl game and the highest total this season. Defensively, Lorenzo Waters totaled a game-high 14 tackles (10 solo), adding two fumble recoveries and a blocked field goal. Darius Hamilton contributed two tackles for loss in the victory.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

RUTGERS ATHLETIC COMMUNICATIONS

RUTGERS ATHLETIC COMMUNICATIONS

The Rutgers Athletic Communications Office is committed to assisting members of the media with their coverage of the Rutgers football team. Hasim Phillips serves as the primary contact for the football program with support from limmy Gill and lorden Ozer.

The Athletic Communications Office is located on level one of the press box at High Point Solutions Stadium. For information regarding credentials, interviews, statistics, press conferences, etc., please call the Athletic Communications Office at 732-445-7028, visit CollegePressBox. com or e-mail Hasim Phillips at hphillips@scarletknights.

To assist in your coverage throughout the year, please read the media information on this page. All interview requests must be directed to and arranged through the Athletic Communications Office at least one day (24 hours) in advance. Coaches, players and support staff are prohibited from participating in any interviews without prior authorization from the Athletic Communications Office.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

All media credential requests must be submitted via email to credentials@scarletknights.com. Admittance to the High Point Solutions Stadium Press Box is limited to working media members only. Credential requests must be made formally to the credential email address.

Requests for game day credentials must be received at least two weeks in advance of the date of the contest to provide sufficient time for processing and mailing. Media credentials which cannot be mailed will be left at the West Gate Media Will Call (Media Entrance) beneath the press box at High Point Solutions Stadium.

Working space in the High Point Solutions Stadium Press Box is allotted on the following basis: (1) daily newspaper writers covering for next-day publication; (2) sports editors of newspapers in New Jersey, New York and Eastern Pennsylvania; (3) radio personnel for broadcast originations; (4) official school student daily newspaper; (5) approved special coverage; (6) press and TV working photographers; (7) weekly press representatives; (8) non-originating radio representatives of AM news stations; and (9) Internet writers for sites affiliated with established, nationally-recognized media outlets will be considered on a game-by-game basis as space permits. Visiting freelance and amateur photographers are not eligible for media credentials.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Sideline photographers and media members must follow NCAA guidelines, which prohibit entry to the bench areas.

PARKING

Media parking is located in the Green Lot, which is located next to the Indoor Practice Bubble. To enter the Green Lot, take River Road to Sutphen Road. Once on Sutphen, make your first left at Fitch Road and attendants will direct you to the media lot. You should request your parking at the same time you request your game credential. If time permits, both will be mailed to you. There is no day-of-game media parking list and therefore members of the media must have a media parking credential in advance of the game.

PRESS BOX SERVICES

Complete NCAA statistics, play-by-play and quote sheets from both teams are all regular services on gameday. Upon your arrival, you will receive a press folder with a game program, flip card, updated stats and game day notes.

The press box has wireless internet access. Login information will be provided on the day of game.

POST-GAME INTERVIEWS

Coach Flood and players, following the designated cooling off period, will be made available for interviews after each game. Following home games, the press conference for head coach Kyle Flood will take place in the team meeting room of the Hale Center, which is located on the east side of the stadium opposite the press box.

With approximately five minutes remaining in the game, members of the media will be escorted across the field towards the Hale Center.

The Rutgers locker room is open to the media following the conclusion of Flood's press conference. The visiting team's press conference will be held in the defensive backs meeting room on the second floor of the Hale Center.

PHONES

A limited number of courtesy phones are available in the press box at High Point Solutions Stadium. The phones are all operator-assisted calls, or third-party billing calls can be made. Should you wish to have a phone installed at High Point Solutions Stadium, contact Verizon at 1-800-564-9911 or 9922.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS

All player interviews must be arranged through the Athletic Communications Office at least one day (24 hours) in advance. Players are available in person on Monday at the weekly Rutgers football luncheon, and following practice on Tuesday and Wednesday, pending class schedules/availability.

Please consult with Hasim Phillips regarding availability as it will vary from week to week. A time mutually convenient for the player and media member can be set up by the Athletic Communications Office. During a traditional game week, there will be no player interviews after Wednesday until following the game.

COACH FLOOD INTERVIEWS

All interview requests for Rutgers head coach Kyle Flood must be arranged through Hasim Phillips. In addition to post-practice media availability, Coach Flood will be available to the media every Monday morning at his weekly news conference in the team meeting room of the Hale Center and on the weekly Big Ten teleconference on Tuesday morning at 12:56 p.m.

VIDEO AT PRACTICE

On Tuesday and Wednesday, video and photo access is available during individual periods of practice. Tripods are not permitted on the practice field and media members must stand at least five yards off the sideline.

WEEKLY PRESS LUNCHEON

Requested players will be available each Monday at the Rutgers football luncheon from 11:30-12:30 p.m. in the Audi Rutgers Club on the third floor of the Hale Center.

COLLEGEPRESSBOX.COM

Collegepressbox.com is the official media website for Big Ten football. Access and download weekly game notes, quotes, statistics, media guides and more for the conference and each of its eight member schools throughout the season. Login information will be distributed to accredited media or you can apply for a password by sending an e-mail to password@collegepressbox.com.

RUTGERS RADIO NETWORK

All Rutgers football games will be broadcast over the Rutgers IMG Sports Network to 50,000 watt WOR 710-AM in New York City and Central Jersey's WCTC 1450-AM.

Play-by-play announcer Chris Carlin is well known to sports radio fans throughout the State of Rutgers. Carlin is in his 15th year with the Rutgers Radio Network, including his 12th as the play-by-play voice of Rutgers football. Carlin is also the play-by-play voice for Rutgers basketball and appears on SNY, including serving as co-host of "Loud Mouths."

Former Rutgers standout quarterback Ray Lucas begins his seventh season as the color analyst on the Rutgers Radio Network. The seven-year NFL veteran has also been an analyst for SNY on its New York Jets programming since 1996 and won a New York Emmy for best analyst in 2010 for his work on SNY.

Anthony "Fooch" Fucilli returns for his 12th season as the Rutgers Radio Network sideline reporter. Fucilli has also worked as a field producer and reporter for MSG Network since 1989.

Marc Malusis is back for his seventh year as the pregame and post-game host on the Rutgers Radio Network. The pre-game shows starts one hour prior to kickoff while the post-game show stays on the air one hour following the game.

Former Rutgers defensive lineman Eric LeGrand begins his fifth season on the Rutgers Radio Network. LeGrand will provide insight and commentary on the pre-game show, halftime report and post-game.

ATHLETIC COMMUNICATIONS FOOTBALL CONTACTS

HASIM PHILLIPS Senior Associate Athletic Director, Communications

Office: 732-445-6069 Cell: 732-470-9457 E-mail: hphillips@scarletknights.com Twitter: @HasimPhillips

Hasim Phillips is in his first season as the primary media relations contact for the Rutgers football program. It is his second stint with Rutgers athletics, having previously served with the department from 2004-12. Phillips began his career in athletic communications at Rutgers in 2004, serving as an assistant until 2007 before becoming an Assistant Director for Athletic Communications from 2007-11. During this time, he spent four seasons assisting the lead football contact with a variety of tasks, including practice and gameday coverage as well as game notes and media guide production. While at Rutgers, he was a member of an athletic communications staff that was twice (2009, 2010) recognized by the Football Writers Association of America as a "Super I" communications department, awarded to the top PR offices in the country. He was later elevated to the role of Associate Director of Athletic Communications from 2011-12, serving as the primary media contact for Hall of Fame head coach C. Vivian Stringer and the women's basketball program. Phillips joined The Madison Square Garden Company in 2012 as a Manager in Corporate Communications. He assisted in the publicity efforts of the MSG Sports brand, helping promote marketing partnerships and new business initiatives. He was involved with press event planning in the corporate and sports business areas, including drafting talking points for senior level management and developing press materials for marketing partner announcements. Phillips also oversaw inquiries regarding the use of MSG trademarks or logos in television or film projects. Phillips is a 2004 graduate of Rutgers University.

JIMMY GILL Associate Director of Communications (Secondary Contact)

Office: 732-445-8103 · Cell: 732-991-9486 · E-mail: jgill@scarletknights.com · Twitter: @jgill027

Jimmy Gill is in his third year with the Rutgers football program, serving his second stint with the Scarlet Knights after returning to the athletic department in January 2013. He works as the secondary contact for football and the primary for baseball and gymnastics. Gill was promoted from Assistant Director of Athletic Communications to Associate Director in June 2014 and was part of the 2014 staff that was honored by the Football Writers Association of America (FWAA) as a recipient of the Super 11 Award. Prior to coming back to RU, Gill worked at the University of Miami (Fla.) as the volleyball and third football contact in the fall of 2012. The volleyball team successfully earned an at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament and Gill was named CoSIDA Division I Volleyball East Region Sports Information Director Honoree for his efforts along the way. After the football season, he worked as a media relations assistant for the Orange Bowl committee for its annual game and the BCS National Championship. During the 2011-2012 academic year, Gill served as Athletic Communications Assistant at Rutgers as the contact for baseball, volleyball, women's tennis and gymnastics. He successfully promoted the BIG EAST Player of the Year for baseball in addition to expanding the social media presence for each of his four sports. A native of Lewes, Del., he earned a bachelor's degree in political science from Swarthmore (Pa.) College in 2010, before receiving his Master's degree in sport administration from the University of Miami (Fla.) in 2011. While working towards his Master's degree, Gill worked as a graduate assistant in the UM communications office, helping with all aspects of the office while functioning as the primary women's golf contact. He got his start in the business in the Swarthmore sports information department as a student worker with a primary focus on statistics for various sports. Gill was a four-year starter for the Garnet baseball team, earning all-conference honors and captaining the program's first-ever playoff appearance as a senior in 2010.

JORDAN OZER Assistant Director of Communications
